San Rafael Army Cook Slain; Body Dumped In Vacant Lot

Suspect Collapses; Rushed To Hospital

A Central American immigrant was booked today on suspicion of the murder of a San Rafael Army cook found shot behind a San Rafael apartment house yesterday.

The suspect, Joquin Antonio Herrera, 23, of El Salvador, was being fingerprinted at Marin County Jail shortly after the booking today when he clutched his stomach and collapsed.

He was taken to Marin General Hospital, where a spokesman said only his illness was connected to an "old medical problem."

Victim of the shooting was Sp/5 Ronald Lee Washburn, 20, of 90 Hoag Avenue, assigned to the Nike missile site off Highway 101 north of San Rafael.

San Rafael police said Washburn — shot three times in the head and once in the chest — was found at 1:35 p.m. yesterday, dumped in high weeds, discarded Christmas trees, old bottles and other rubbish behind 1704 Lincoln Avenue.

The body was found by off-duty San Rafael Patrolman Arthur E. Myers, who was walking his dog near the spot. He said he first spotted a pair of Army boots among the weeds.

She reported him missing to police when he did not return that evening. When found, Washburn was wearing white coveralls, and his wife said he had them on when he left the house.

Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa said four inspectors began a door-to-door investigation in the area.

Herrera was arrested in the apartment of relatives at 1710 Lincoln Avenue, where he and his wife are staying. Insp.

POVERTY BOARD APPROVES BUDGET

Outlay To Launch Big Brother Program In San Anselmo-Fairfax Area Rejected

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

The Marin County Economic Opportunity Council last night approved its budget by 9-6 vote, but granted no funds for a "Big Brother" program in San Anselmo and Fairfax. (Editorial comment, page 42.)

Victor Cary, EOC executive director, informed the board that he was told yesterday by a state official of the Office of Economic Opportunity that no funds for new programs are available. Therefore, he deleted the San Anselmo-Fairfax program.

CRITICAL WORDS

However, Cary said, the program may be taken over by "a delegate agency" without the federal funds. In response to a question from the audience, he identified the delegate agency as the Young Men's Christian Association.

Deletion of the program did not save the council from critical words about it by several San Anselmo and Fairfax residents in the audience of 30. At one point, the discussion grew so hot that chairman Arthur L. Brown, in a fit of temper, made a critical remark to Mrs. Virginia Baker of Fairfax, for which he later apologized.

Approval of the council's $71,000 budget for its central office came only after long discussion among the members, several of whom objected to lack of specifics in Cary's proposed program for next fiscal year.

NO DISSENT

There was no dissent to the $41,000 budget for the Marin City Target Area.

Although Cary said EOC's allocation for next fiscal year (starting April 1) apparently would be $121,000, the same as for this year, the council found itself with surplus funds on hand which it voted unanimously to earmark for a manpower study and what Cary called "possibly lead time approach for a summer program."

The total unexpended is $65,557.30, of which $42,000 is expected to remain at the close of the fiscal year March 31, according to figures Cary gave the council.

"Last year we had a surplus of $82,000 and it turned out we

Burned Plane Spotted On Nevada Peak

BATTLE MOUNTAIN, NEV. (AP)—The burned wreckage of a Marine transport plane was found today in a steep canyon on the rocky slope of a Nevada mountain where it crashed in a blinding blizzard.

There was no sign of life in the canyon.

The plane was variously reported carrying 18, 19 or 20 men on a flight Wednesday from Denver to Seattle, Wash.

The C54 transport hit at the 9,400 foot level on the east side of Mount Tobin, and slid into an inaccessible canyon.

"Nobody could have survived this," a search pilot reported.

There were skid marks on the charred spot on the mountain where the plane hit, less than an hour after its pilot reported that icing conditions were forcing it down below the 12,000 foot level.

Mount Tobin towers 10,000 feet in sparsely settled northern Nevada. It is 32 miles southwest of Battle Mountain.

Sheriff George Schwin of Lander County reported from the desolate, snow-covered mountainside at 9 a.m. that his search party was trying to find a way down into the steep canyon.

"I don't know if we can," he said. "We may have to get a helicopter to land there instead."

Crewmen of a rescue plane from Hamilton Air Force Base reported at 11 a.m. that they could see two ground searchers inching their way to the wreckage.

Fairfax Planners Like General Plan

The Fairfax Planning Commission last night approved a preliminary general plan for the city and adjacent unincorporated area by a 5-2 vote.

Commissioners Harold S. Lezzeni and Martin J. Zernicke, who opposed the downtown portion of the plan, dissented.

Since it was the commission's third hearing, the plan was presented in summary rather than in detail.

OVER-ALL PLANS

Over-all the plan calls for retaining the village quality of Fairfax and its natural environment and concentrating commercial development in the downtown area.

The plan, drawn by the county planning staff, has received numerous hearings in Fairfax. It will be up for adoption at 8 p.m. Jan. 29 before the city council.

It recommends a four-lane expressway through Fairfax for local traffic, but not a freeway through the center of the city.

Chairman Leo T. Cronin emphasized that the plan is just a guide and adoption "doesn't mean that something is going to start tomorrow."

SOME CHALLENGES

There were some challenges from an audience of about 25 persons, but the sharpest criticism came from the dissenting commissioners.

"I don't believe there has been adequate downtown study," said Lezzeni.

Zernicke contended that the downtown plan would cut the commercial area into two pieces and "not provide one good shopping center complex."

Since the commission first approved a downtown plan in November, there have been changes in the system proposed to have Bolinas Road traffic bypass the Broadway intersection to reach Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Cronin said. The changes were made after the city's architect recommended a civic center on Bolinas Road, near Sherman Avenue, he said.

Under the new proposal, there would be a three-stage program for traffic by-passes. In the first

Adam Target Of Closed Span Session

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

James Adam, controversial general manager of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District, was threatened with immediate firing by his board of directors in a closed meeting Sept. 29 in Napa, it was reliably reported yesterday.

Bridge district directors apparently had the necessary eight votes to fire Adam, but a fight was averted by Adam's announcement in the meeting that he will reach mandatory retirement age of 70 in July, it was reported.

His secretary, Mrs. Helen Jack, said yesterday she did not know Adam's age or when he might retire. He could not be reached for comment.

The 10-minute meeting in September was held at the Silverado Country Club amidst rumors of a high-level firing. The public was excluded from the meeting so directors could "discuss a personnel matter," chairman John E. Nelson of Mendocino said at the time.

After the meeting, he said "no action was taken."

An Independent-Journal reporter protested at the time that the state's anti-secret meeting law, the Brown Act, does not allow closed meetings for something so vague as "a personnel matter." However, the meeting would have been proper to discuss the firing of Adam.

A different version of the closed meeting was given yesterday by one director, who said "all that happened was that Adam said he would retire in July."

A second director told the Independent-Journal that "it still is a matter of speculation as to what the board will do when Adam reaches mandatory retirement age."

Cong Meeting Death In A Swamp Attack

SAIGON (UPI) — American troops fighting in neck-deep swamps wiped out a Communist ambush and killed at least 46 guerrillas in the Mekong Delta today.

About 600 Viet Cong ambushed about 200 GIs making a helicopter landing into the snake-infested swamps 54 miles southwest of Saigon and the battle raged through the night until the Communists fled at dawn, U.S. spokesmen said.

American casualties numbered 18 killed and 58 wounded, spokesmen said. "The terrain couldn't have been worse," a U.S. Army 9th Infantry Division spokesman said.

In Saigon, U.S. officials

Disability Payments With Less Credits

By ROBERT M. BALL
Social Security Commissioner
Written for UPI
(Fourth of Five Articles)

WASHINGTON (UPI) — If you become disabled before age 31, you will not need as many work credits to get disability benefits as you needed under the old Social Security law.

To get disability benefits under the old law, you needed Social Security credits for at least five out of the 10 years before you became disabled—unless you became disabled before age 31 because of blindness. Many young workers did not have a chance to work long enough to meet this requirement.

Now, if you become disabled between ages 24 and 31, you will need credits for only half the time between age 21 and the time you become unable to work. If you are disabled before you reach age 24, you will need only 1 1-2 years of work credits out of the three-year period ending when your disability began.

The first month in which payments can be made under this change in the law is March, 1968. If you became disabled before age 31, get in touch with your Social Security office soon, even if a previous claim was denied because you did not have enough work credits. The new law may help you — and if you

Champagne Flows For U.S., Cambodian Understanding

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — Prince Norodom Sihanouk and U.S. envoy Chester Bowles today celebrated with champagne their agreement to keep Cambodia out of the Vietnam war and Vietnamese Communists out of this neutral nation, government sources said.

"Very satisfying," proclaimed Sihanouk, the Cambodian chief of state who broke off diplomatic relations with Washington in May, 1965, and only recently called America the losing horse in the race for Asia.

All smiles, he played host at the gourmet lunch for Bowles after the presidential envoy's third and last working session in the first American-Cambodian talks in 15 months.

The sources said Bowles, regularly American ambassador to India, assured his host again today that the United States will not practice "hot pursuit" of Communist guerrillas fleeing for safety from Vietnam into Cambodia's border jungles. The new vow came over lunch, they said.

Bowles was to return tomorrow to India. Sources here said he is expected to send an optimistic report to President Johnson on his special talks.

In Washington diplomatic sources said the key issue in the Phnom Penh meeting is the strengthening of the International Control Commission (ICC) over the objections of Communist Poland, which serves with Canada and India on the ICC.

RUSK ASSESSES JOB

Population Boom—A Peril To Peace

(EDITOR'S NOTE: In another week, Dean Rusk will have served as secretary of state longer than all but five of the previous 53 secretaries. Primarily because of Vietnam, he has become one of the most controversial occupants of that office in history. In the following article Rusk looks back on his years in office and assesses the future.)

By STEWART HENSLEY

WASHINGTON (UPI)—As the world approaches the 21st Century, the population explosion may well pose a greater threat to peace than the problem of nuclear weapons, in the view of Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Assuming that the Vietnam war is settled and nuclear holocaust averted, the secretary regards the ever-growing number of people in the world as among "the major tasks, perils and problems ahead."

MAJOR PROBLEMS

"The major problems will arrive out of the sheer numbers of people," he said yesterday in an anniversary interview with United Press International. "At the present time there is no nation that is putting forward the doctrine of 'lebensraum'. (living space) for territorial expansion or aggression against its neighbors. That's because there is considerable confidence that science and technology can somehow deal with this problem of people and resources.

"If that hope disappears, we could have new crises arising out of sheer pressure of population. It is a race between scientific and technological advance on one side and limitation of the growth of the species on the other. In the 1980s and 1990s this problem could be at least as explosive as the nuclear weapons problem."

Ruck who began seven turbulent years in the top Cabinet post on Jan. 21, 1961, ranged over a wide variety of topics during the interview, viewing the attacks he has undergone since taking office with philosophic detachment—and with a wry humor seldom glimpsed in public.

In the early Kennedy days, these assaults came principally from critics who viewed him as "weak and vacillating." Currently he is pictured as the evil genius behind the unwavering Vietnam policy that has provoked one of the greatest public debates in U.S. history.

Through it all, Rusk has maintained the aplomb and courtesy he considers vital armor for a diplomat entrusted with life-and-death matters in the nuclear age. "This job doesn't have much room for losing one's temper," he said.

But he acknowledges privately that he frequently has to "bite my tongue" to suppress the retorts that might naturally spring to the lips of a boy from Cherokee County, Ga.

NUCLEAR RESULTS

Reviewing the triumphs and frustrations of the past seven years, he said his greatest satisfaction has been "keeping the nuclear beast in its cage."

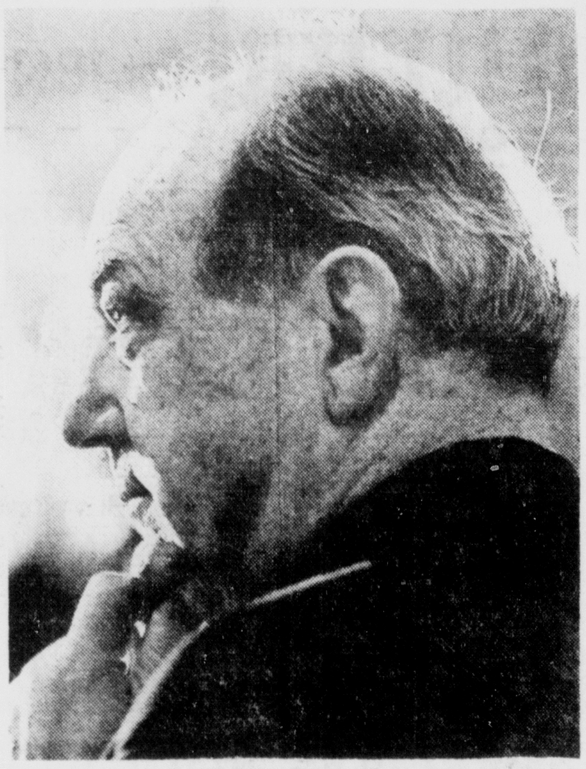
Rusk said the Cuba missile crisis of 1962, which he has described as his "toughest experience," marked a turning point in Soviet-American relations but he didn't know whether this trend would continue.

"I hesitate to use the word permanent," he said, "but I think it was an experience that led to an increase in prudence in many capitals, including Washington. It dramatized the dangers of such a confrontation. It reminded everybody that peace is pretty important because of the alternative." He frequently describes this alternative as the "incineration of the North Hemisphere."

PEKING QUESTION

Asked whether he believed Communist China's acquisitiion of a nuclear arsenal would increase Peking's caution in like fashion, the secretary replied:

"That's a large question' We don't know what the next generation of leadership in China will look like."



ANNIVERSARY REPORT — Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who completed seven years yesterday in his demanding role, sees nuclear power containment one of major accomplishments. (UPI Telephoto)

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Dare Means Death Sentence

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Jack Kirschke, who dared a jury to sentence him to death, now faces execution in California's gas chamber for the murders of his wife and her lover.

The former deputy district attorney told the jury that those members who wanted to see him live "could best insure that by voting for the death penalty," and yesterday they did.

Kirschke

The six-man, six-woman panel deliberated just under four hours spread over two days before condemning Kirschke, 46, to death for the April 8 slayings of his wife, dress designer Elaine Terry Kirschke, 43, and Orville W. Drankhan, 41.

For Kirschke the death sentence was a legal victory.

Kirschke said if he were sentenced to life imprisonment and incarcerated in San Quentin Prison while his appeals worked their way through the lower courts, he could be murdered in "the big yard" by a convict he might have sent there as a prosecutor.

MADRID (UPI)—Philip Trezise, a special presidential envoy to explain the United States' efforts to defend the dollar, returns to Paris today after a visit to Spain. Top Spanish economic experts were reported to have urged the U.S. to exempt Spain from the curb on U.S. foreign investments.

H. RAP BROWN
Uses Cuban sanctuary

H. Rap Brown Tangles With N.Y. Police

NEW YORK (UPI) — Black power militant H. Rap Brown and a city policeman scuffled yesterday outside the Cuban United Nations Mission. The Cubans protested to Secretary General Thant that their "territorial integrity" had been violated.

Brown, chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), and an associate, Robert Smith, took refuge inside the mission for more than six hours yesterday.

Brown, 23, said that when he was leaving the mission there was a confrontation between Patrolman Michael Gleason and Smith. "He, the policeman tried to eject Bob Smith with a nightstick and that was when I intervened and took care of him," Brown said.

Brown described the incident as an example of the New York "Gestapo police headed by Mayor John V. Lindsay and Lyndon Johnson striking out against black people in an oppressive manner."

Marion Site Suggested For Offices

An administration building with a courtyard in the center could be placed on the Marion School grounds in Novato and take up to three and one-half acres of the 13-acre school site, Supt. James G. Bunker proposes.

The building would contain 10,000 to 12,000 square feet and could be placed at the school if the play area were moved to the west to allow for building and parking area, trustees were told Monday.

The board took no action on the proposal, Bunker said. The present administration building would become an instructional materials center, the superintendent said.

Trustees rejected an injury claim for $20,360 asked by Kenneth J. Straw, a sixth grade student at Lynwood School. The claim by the boy, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Hobert Straw of 115 Kaden Court, is for a face cut he said he suffered on the school grounds Sept. 14, before school was open. The claim will go to district insurance carriers.

Purse Snatch Cases Probed

Juveniles have stolen purses from two women in Marin City, sheriff's deputies reported.

Mrs. Teresa Johnson of 560 Fernando Drive, Novato, was walking toward a friend's home on Cole Drive at 6:50 p.m. Tuesday when three boys approached, wrestled her to the ground and snatched her purse containing $10 and various papers. Mrs. Johnson suffered minor bruises and scratches.

At 7 p.m. Tuesday, Mrs. Jacque Giandla of 989 Drake Avenue was making a telephone call in the office of St. Andrew United Presbyterian Church, Drake Avenue and Donahue Street, when a youth entered the building, seized her purse from the counter and ran off. The purse contained $4 and personal papers.

Meeting Reset

Corte Madera Avenue Homeowners Association, scheduled to meet yesterday, will meet instead at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the home of Peter Belden at 493 Corte Madera Avenue. Election of officers is scheduled.

Poverty Board Denies Big Brother Funding

chairman Brown. "It will probably never happen again."

The attacks on the San Anselmo-Fairfax program were directed principally against John R. Palunco Jr., its organizer, who was seated Dec. 30 as a member of the EOC.

OFFERS SERVICE

Mrs. Baker charged that Palunco had told both San Anselmo and Fairfax city councils that his program did not come under the Marin County EOC and had said "he deals directly with Washington."

She said that, as Americanism chairman of the San Anselmo American Legion Auxiliary, she had offered the service of that organization to organize a "Big Brother" program but had been rebuffed by Palunco.

"Why abuse the federal funds when we offered him help?" she asked.

Also, she said, Palunco at meetings of the Fairfax-San Anselmo Target Area Action Board had talked of "seven or eight different programs," including dog control, intra-city transportation, kiddies' matinees, Little Sisters and a youth club. "Just last night he brought in drug abuse," she said.

NO ACTION

Rev. John J. O'Connor, EOC member, pointed out, however, that there had been no action by any other group to start a "Big Brother" program until Palunco's committee proposed it.

Mrs. Baker was joined by several other Fairfax and San Anselmo residents in her criticisms.

Mrs. Barbara Hennessy of Fairfax charged that Palunco and his committee had operated in secret and "people in Fairfax and San Anselmo have not had a chance to air their views."

Mrs. Mary Donnelly of San Anselmo cited lack of information about proposed programs, and declared, "I'm frankly appalled at the antagonism there is here."

This brought from Father O'Connor a motion, unanimously approved, that Brown appoint a committee to keep the public informed on the concepts, accomplishments and failures of EOC and of meetings of any target area boards which are set up. Brown did not name the committee last night.

The central administration budget would add a community organizer, a program coordinator and two more community workers to Cary's staff.

Members Thomas F. Campanella, O'Connor, and Richard V. Bettini raised a series of questions about what these people would do and about the specific program and goals. Saying he was unsatisfied with the answers, Campanella once moved to table both program and budget.

Cary objected, however, that program and budget have to be submitted by Monday or the council may get no federal funds for next year. The motion which finally passed 9-6 (there were 18 members present when the long meeting started and 19 at one time, but only 16 including the chairman when the vote was taken) authorized both but made the program "subject to change day by day."

The council took a slap at the San Geronimo Valley Association in approving, with one dissent, a motion freeing Cary from the responsibility of acting as liaison with the group. Father O'Connor said the association has presented "almost a treadmill of demands."

Marin City Wants To Be Target Area

Maybe no place else in Marin County wants to be called a War couty wnts to be clled War on Poverty target area, but Marin City definitely does.

Six members of the Marin City Target Area Board said so at last night's meeting of the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council in Corte Madera.

Before the council was a proposed by-laws change which would alter "target area action board" to "area citizens committee."

Roger Jones of Marin City declared, "The name is being changed to become suitable to other areas where they will not accept the name of poverty."

Ellihue H. Johnson said, "It's a spade by a different name. . . . There's more poor white people in this county than poor Negroes but they just don't want to accept the fact."

"We're proud of being the target area," said chairman Arthur L. Brown.

Upshot was to refer the by-laws change back to the by-laws committee, with a suggestion by member John R. Palunco Jr. of San Anselmo that each area board be permitted to pick its own name.

SOCIAL

are entitled to benefits, your dependents also may be eligible.

If you are a woman worker, the new law makes it easier for your dependents and survivors to get benefits based on your earnings.

Under the old law, there were circumstances under which benefits could be paid to dependents or survivors of a woman worker only if she had worked under social security for 1 1-2 years of the last three years.

Now this special requirement has been removed. Benefits may be paid in these cases beginning in March, 1968, if the woman worker has enough work credits (earned at any time) to be "fully insured."

This change in the law will provide benefits for some children whose mothers died after working under social security, or who retired under social security, or who retired or became disabled; some widowers who were dependent on a wife at the time of the wife's death; and some husbands who were dependent on a wife at the time of the wife's retirement or disability.

Attache Ordered Out Of Poland

WARSAW (UPI)—The Polish government has ordered an American military attache to leave and is considering action against a Canadian army officer for improper intelligence activities, the Polish news agency PAP said today.

The American officer was identified as Army Lt. Col. Edward H. Metzger, 42, of 34 Fairmont Way, Quincy, Mass., and the Canadian as Lt. Col. Kenneth I. Jefferson, 43, a native of Regina, Sask.

Death Row Inmates Still Refusing Food

Twenty-six Death Row inmates at San Quentin went into the seventh day of their refusal to eat prison food today. They passed up a breakfast of fresh bananas, bran flakes, scrambled eggs, French toast, bread, coffee and milk.

The remaining 37 men in the condemned unit have continued to accept meals. The strike was called in protest of the prison's food and the way in which it is prepared.

PLAN

stage, Bolinas Road traffic would be routed along Napa Street; in the second stage, along Sherman and Pacheco Avenues, and in the third stage, Sherman would be extended to join Center Boulevard.

A Napa Street resident said about 75 homes would be affected by such a program, and Lezzeni objected to routing traffic through residential areas. "That would eliminate a tremendous amount of downtown residential," he said.

Commissioner E. Ross Parkerson said the by-pass routing would help retain the pedestrian atmosphere downtown, rather than have it taken over by automobiles.

Mrs. Stefan Carniglia of 137 Hillside Drive said: "This plan is a little too ambitious. I would like a more modest plan."

The plan is designed for a population of 15,000 persons in the planning area, almost double the present total.

DOWNTOWN PATTERN

In the downtown area changes will come with the normal process of growth, saidd Sol Silver of the county planning staff. "We don't suggest to wipe it all out to accommodate this plan."

Lezzeni said the plan for a four-lane expressway along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard would eliminate business along the north side of the boulevard.

In its traffic circulation pattern, the plan calls for a highway from White Hill to Manuel Freitas Parkway, connection of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard to Center Boulevard at the east city boundary and lowering the parade area.

Darnell emphasized that through traffic should by-pass the city, and there wasn't any proposal for "any sort of a freeway through the Fairfax central area."

The proposed density ranged from .5 units per gross acre in the largely inaccessible areas to 10 to 15 units in level areas.

Commissioners voted separately on three portions of the plan before their final vote on the over-all plan.

On the map showing land use and traffic circulation, the vote was 6-1 with Lezzeni dissenting.

On the summary sheet listing the recommendations, the vote was 6-1 with Lezzeni dissenting.

On the downtown plan, the vote was 5-2 with Lezzeni and Zernicke dissenting.

Donated Kidney Soon Rejected, Taken Out

PALO ALTO (UPI)—Surgeons last night removed from a Nevada woman a kidney donated by a housewife whose heart was transplanted in the chest of Mike Kasperak.

A spokesman for the Palo Alto-Stanford Hospital said Mrs. Annabell Mann, 51, Reno, rejected the organ and it was taken out in a 30-minute operation. She received the kidney Saturday from the body of Mrs. Virginia Mae White, 43, Santa Clara housewife who died of a brain hemorrhage.

Mrs. Mann was reported in satisfactory condition Wednesday night in the hospital's intensive care ward. She will remain attached to a kidney simulator until a new kidney donor is found and until she recovers from the operation.

Surgeons said removal of the kidney does not prevent Mrs. Mann from receiving another kidney from an acceptable donor in the future.

Surveyor's Gold Box Jams, May Balk Chemical Tests

PASADENA (UPI) — Scientists today attempted to free a jammed mechanism in the Surveyor 7 moon robot which rendered useless one of the most important scientific experiments aboard the spacecraft.

Controllers at Jet Propulsion Laboratory (JPL) had ordered Surveyor 7's Alpha scattering devide, designed to analyze the chemistry of the lunar soil, to lower itself to the surface of the moon but the deployment mechanism jammed.

Scientists devised a variety of methods to release the 28-pound miniature laboratory, including tapping it with Surveyor's maneuverable digging scoop.

Another possibility was the three-legged craft may be jounced slightly with a brief ignition of its retro rockets to free the box.

"We gave it a pretty good jolt," said a JPL spokesman in describing attempts to dislodge the Alpha device from its hang-up. "One speculation is that there may be a particle of rock or dust stuck in the mechanism. In some of the television pictures taken of the craft we've seen some particles of dirt on the outside.

Controllers planned to resume attempts to free the device late today and tentatively scheduled trench-digging operations with the shovel.

Surveyor 7 has transmitted more than 2,000 pictures of the rockstrewn Tycho crater region near the lunar south pole since it landed 25 miles north of the crater rim Tuesday.

Scientists also conducted the first experiments with the digging device, which resembles a penny arcade steam shovel.

In a test of how much weight the lunar crust can support, scientists sent radio commands to Surveyor to punch the tip of the shovel into the soil. The shovel penetrated the surface to a depth of about a half inch, indicating the rough, mountainous area may be softer than the moon's flat sea regions, where the prime Apollo landing sites are located.

Marinite Has Role On Parley For Abortion

Dr. Thomas P. Lowry of Kentfield, chairman of the Marin chapter of the California Committee to Legalize Abortion, will lead a discussion session next month at conference in Santa Barbara on legalizing abortion.

Lowry will head a panel discussion organization of a drive for a referendum to repeal abortion laws in California. Dr. Thomas Hart of Ross, vice chairman of the Marin chapter, will moderate a panel of persons supporting various means of changing abortion laws.

The conference will be Feb. 10-11 at the parish hall of the Santa Barbara Unitarian-Universalist Church.

Members of the Marin chapter meeting last night at Ross Hospital formulated plans to offer to radio stations and groups tape-recorded discussions by women who have had abortions.

San Francisco Paper Talks At A Standstill

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Negotiations were at a standstill in the six-day-old San Francisco newspaper strike today.

Talks were halted yesterday, but Doug Smith, president of the striking Mailers Union, said that either side might call to resume them.

The morning Chronicle and evening Examiner were struck last Friday. The Mailers are also negotiating with the Oakland Tribune and San Jose Mercury and News. The Alameda County Central Labor Council announced its executive committee has been given authority to sanction a strike against the Tribune.

Council Secretary Dick Groulx said the measure was a "precautionary" one taken because it was feared the strike in San Francisco could cause a lockout of Tribune mailers.

In San Francisco, California Labor Federation Secretary Treasurer Thomas L. Pitts meanwhile issued a statement condemning the Hearst newspaper management for its negotiating stand in the Los Angeles newspaper dispute.

The unions involved in the dispute contend the question of seniority for employees who are working during the strike is a key issue preventing settlement.

In Los Angeles the American Newspaper Guild, on strike since Dec. 15 against the Los Angeles Herald-Examiner, has turned its wrath against Mayor Sam Yorty.

An ANG spokesman said last night that the union would picket City Hall today to protest Yorty's reported refusal to introduce a city law which would ban the use of professional strikebreakers "such as those being employed by the Los Angeles Herald-Examiner." San Francisco already has such a law.

One member of the ANG, James Hilton, was cited yesterday for violating a restraining order to refrain from threatening violence to persons who crossed the picket line outside the Herald-Examiner building.

A preliminary injunction was also issued yesterday by Superior Judge Robert S. Thompson prohibiting pickets from threatening harm or assaulting any employees or customers of the Hearst Corp., which owns the newspaper.

Cutters Collide During Maneuvers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Two Coast Guard cutters collided yesterday during maneuvers 70 miles west of Morro Bay, but a spokesman said there were no injuries to the crew of either vessel.

He said the cutter Avoyel chopped into the cutter Resolute, inflicting an 8-inch hole and an 18-inch split, both above the water line. There also was some damage to the main deck and superstructure.

The Coast Guard said the accident occurred in moderate seas.

Scooter-Car Crash Fatal To Collegian

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — An 18-year-old college student was killed yesterday when the motor scooter he was riding overturned on a busy street and collided with a moving auto.

Innocent Plea To Auto Theft

John Tomakin, 27, of San Francisco, pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to a charge of stealing a car San Rafael police said contained three kilos of marijuana when they stopped it Tuesday.

Preliminary hearing on the charge that Tomakin stole the car from a leasing agency in Long Beach was scheduled for Monday at 9:30 a.m. in Municipal Court.

The District Attorney's office said no charge will be filed, pending further investigation, against Michael Landry, 18, of San Francisco, a passenger in the car, who was arrested for suspicion of being under the influence of narcotics.

A 16-year-old girl, booked at juvenile hall, allegedly was carrying the marijuana, worth $300 in its raw form, and a loaded gun, when police stopped the car.

Dana Andrews Is Reported Better

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—Actor Dana Andrews, 56, was listed in satisfactory condition today at Barnes Hospital where he was taken last week after suffering a fractured skull.

Appeals Court Rules Auto Marijuana Hunt Legal Act

A San Rafael police search of a car in which more than $20,000 worth of marijuana was found Nov. 18, 1966, was legal, the California District Court of Appeal has ruled.

The appelate court decision, reported by the Marin District Attorney's Office today, overruled a decision last January of Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court.

Judge Wilson said the search was illegal and dismissed counts of marijuana possession and having marijuana for sale against the driver of the car, Garth J. B. Upton, 22, a San Francisco State College student and South San Francisco resident.

The effect of the appelate court's ruling will be to reopen the case in Marin Superior Court, Deputy Dist. Atty. Joshua Thomas said today.

Judge Wilson dismissed the evidence against Upton because the car was searched at the county courthouse, not on Irwin Street, where the arrest was made.

Police allegedly found marijuana in two suitcases in the car's trunk. Officers said it was neatly wrapped and ready for use. The car had been stopped for a traffic violation.

Thomas said the appelate court, in reversing Judge Wilson, noted he relied on one of their decisions on auto searches in making his finding. That decision was subsequently reversed by the California Supreme Court, the jurists said.

Powell Challenges White Students To Join Revolution'

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Adam Clayton Powell today pressed his recruitment of young white students to enlist as soldiers in his "second civil war," which he calls the "black revolution."

The Harlem Democrat, denied his seat in the House of Representatives for misconduct and misuse of public funds, flew here for appearances at San Diego State College and San Diego Junior College.

BEGINS TOUR

Powell began a nationwide college speaking tour yesterday before a crowd of about 6,000 students at the University of California at Los Angeles. He directed his remarks mainly to the white students who predominated in the audience.

"I know you white boys and girls are frustrated. You need something to move you," Powell said. "I challenge you bright young people to break from the cult of mediocrity. I challenge you to join the black revolution."

ISSUES CALL

Powell spoke from a podium on the basketball floor in UCLA's Pauley Pavilion. A block of several hundred Negro students sat in the audience behind a large sign that read, "UCLA Black Students Union Welcome Brother Powell."

Speaking directly to the white students, Powell said;

"Abraham Lincoln freed the slaves supposedly with a stroke of the pen, but we're going to free you. The smoldering resentment in the ghettoes of America is not a monopoly with young black people. They just have the guts to get with it."

Powell said the great society had failed because of a lack of leadership. "LBJ has tried, poor old fellow. There is no leadership in this land today. This is not a Great Society, this is a sick society, a society that has a cancer eating out the heart of democracy, a society where there is a dual standard for black and white people."

He envisioned the day when "young black people and young white people will walk down the streets together and say, 'this is our land.'"

Powell arrived in Los Angeles from his Bimini retreat in the Bahamas last Monday to visit Watts and begin a 14-campus tour. He speaks tomorrow at the University of California at Berkeley and appears at Stanford University tomorrow night.

S.P. Hoping To Abandon Streamliner

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Southern Pacific Railroad plans to ask the Interstate Commerce Commission next week for permission to discontinue its passenger service between the San Francisco Bay Area and Chicago.

The railroad said yesterday it is losing $950,000 a year on its portion of the City of San Francisco train. S.P. operates it between Oakland and Ogden, Utah, and Union Pacific takes it from Ogden to Chicago.

An S.P. spokesman said his company had never before sought permission to give up the City of San Francisco. It was assumed Union Pacific also would seek to abandon the route.

If successful, the only two through passenger trains from the San Francisco area to Chicago would be the Western Pacific's California Zephyr and the Santa Fe's San Francisco Chief.

Alviso Approves San Jose Annex

ALVISO (UPI) — The 115-year-old incorporated city of Alviso voted 189 to 180 Tuesday for annexation with San Jose.

The closely contested issue must be approved by the San Jose City Council and Secretary of State Frank Jordan.

Alviso, with a population of 1,400, covers an area of 30 square miles, most of which are sloughs in the south San Francisco Bay.

An estimated 40 per cent of the laboratory procedures used today could not have been carried out 10 years ago.

TO CHANGING CHURCH

Catholic Hierarchy Asks More Loyalty

WASHINGTON (UPI)—America's 46 million Roman Catholics are being exhorted in an extraordinary appeal by their bishops to display more love, loyalty and obedience toward their rapidly changing church.

The bishops made their plea in a 25,000-word pastoral letter in which they voiced deep concern about a spirit of criticism, impatience with authority and reluctance to obey that has developed in the church since the Vatican Council.

CHURCH UPDATED

They noted in the letter, issued last night, that if the past five years the church has undergone some of the most rapid and profound changes in its history.

"Such a period is no time to lose patience, above all with the church, or to attempt to decide, on the strength of one's own insights alone, what things are to be believed or what values are to be affirmed for salvation," they said.

"We ask all, scholars and simple faithful alike, for honest adherence to the teachings of the Vatican Council . . ."

A CRISIS CALL

The lengthy document was approved by the bishops at a closed meeting in Washington last month but was not made public until now. It was official recognition of a "crisis of obedience" in the church, a crisis which affects liberals who want the reforms to move farther and faster as well as conservatives who feel that there has been too much change already.

The bishops expressed particular concern about priests who quit to get married or publicly voice their disagreement with the church's teachings on such subjects as birth control.

Foot-dragging conservatives also came in for rebuke. The bishops particularly admonished Catholics who are indifferent or hostile toward such social reforms as efforts to eliminate poverty and racial discrimination.

Chicago has been host to more presidential conventions than any other city, including 14 by the Republicans and nine by the Democrats.

Mansfield Sees Civil Rights Debate

A civil rights bill, virtually certain to ignite heated debate, already is on the Senate docket as the opening business after Congress reconvenes Monday.

The measure is designed to protect Negroes and civil rights workers from racial violence. It would make it a federal crime to use violence or threats to interfere with the exercise of civil rights by members of minority groups.

"I'm very hopeful we can pass the bill," he said yesterday.

But Mansfield said the measure "is in deep trouble" if Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen opposes its terms. And Dirksen has said he will.

In another prediction, Mansfield said he expects a renewed request for higher income taxes but not "too much in the way of new proposals" in President Johnson's State of the Union message to Congress on Wednesday.

Three More Deserting GIs Gain Sanctuary In Sweden

STOCKHOLM (UPI)—Three more U.S. military deserters won virtual political asylum in neutral Sweden today, and police reported still another trio had arrived seeking to escape Vietnam duty.

The three-man Aliens Committee recommended that William Percell, 21, of Miami, Fla., David Michael Haire, 19, of Beaufort, S.C., and Edward Johnson, 21, of Cleveland, Ohio, be given sanctuary "for humanitarian reasons."

Meanwhile, police said three other GIs arrived Tuesday night from West Germany and asked for asylum Wednesday morning.

A spokesman identified them as Cpl. James Grant, 30 of Meridian, Miss., Joseph Norwood, 20, of Los Angeles, and John Dowling, 20, of San Diego, Calif.

Grant, a Negro, told police he was based in the United States and was visiting his wife in Germany prior to leaving for Vietnam when he decided to desert. Norwood and Dowling both served in the U.S. Army in Mainz, West Germany, and deserted when they learned they were being ordered to Vietnam.

The three new desertions raised to 15 the number of American servicemen in Sweden to avoid the war.

Four of them were the U.S. sailors who deserted their ship in Japan Oct. 23 and made their way to Sweden via Moscow with the help of a Japanese antiwar committee and the Soviet government. They were granted asylum Tuesday by the Aliens Commission.

The first known true lightship was an oversized rowboat anchored in the Thames Estuary of England in 1732.

Hatfield Believes Rockefeller's Flexibility Could Unite The GOP

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mark O. Hatfield, R-Ore., says New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's position is flexible enough to unite Republicans on the Vietnam issue if he should become the party's presidential nominee.

Hatfield, a critic of President Johnson's Vietnam policies, said in an interview he does not believe that Rockefeller's general support of the course Johnson has pursued in Asia would preclude him from offering alternatives.

"I think Gov. Rockefeller's position on Vietnam is flexible," Hatfield said yesterday. "I would have no hesitancy in supporting him if he were the nominee."

NELSON ROCKEFELLER
The uniting factor?

But other Republican governors generally are waiting to see if the outcome of the March 12 New Hampshire primary moves Rockefeller away from his noncandidate status.

If Michigan Gov. George Romney should be walloped by Nixon in that test, as current polls seem to indicate, Rockefeller would face a decision on whether to respond favorably to the movements springing up across the country to draft him for the nomination.

If a Wisconsin commission places Rockefeller's name on that state's April 2 ballot, Rockefeller would have to decide whether or not to withdraw it before the New Hampshire test. The withdrawal deadline in Wisconsin is Feb. 29. Rockefeller could meet Wisconsin withdrawal requirements only by declaring he is not a candidate for the presidency.

However, if Romney took a shellacking in New Hampshire, Rockefeller would have until March 15 to decide what to do about the May 14 Nebraska primary and until March 22 to act on the May 28 Oregon primary.

Hughes Jet Port Over A Hurdle

LAS VEGAS (UPI) — Billionaire industrialist Howard Hughes today had the assurance of the federal government that it would not be against his trying to build a supersonic jet airport in southern Nevada.

Arvin Basnight, Western Regional Director of the Federal Aviation Agency, met yesterday with representatives of Hughes and Clark County and assured them, "We are not opposed to development in any way."

The mysterious industrialist, who lives in a penthouse atop the Destert Inn Hotel, which he owns, has offered to build the facility for Clark County at cost and interest free. Hughes' spokesmen say he would take over McCarran Airport, part of which is on government property, in the transaction.

McCarthy Begins State Tour; Holds War Generating Fear

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, carrying his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination to the nation's most populous state, says the Vietnam war has generated a spirit of "joylessness and fear" in America.

The Minnesota Democrat said the "frustrations of the poor and the unpleasantness of our cities cannot be separated" from the war.

McCarthy, who plans to run in several Democratic primaries, today opened a six-day campaign swing through California.

His initial speech was prepared for delivery at a Los Angeles luncheon.

McCarthy said the war has distorted the nation's priorities. During the last two sessions of Congress total appropriations increased by $38 billion—all but $2.6 billion of the total for defense program, he said.

In other political developments:

A major Rhode Island supporter of Michigan Gov. George Romney who seeks the Republican nomination, said Romney's campaign is "not catching on."

California Gov. Ronald Reagan said he can't imagine any circumstances under which he'd campaign in primaries for the GOP nomination.

McCarthy told his Los Angeles audience the Johnson administration "has committed itself, without really consulting anybody" on the Viet question.

He said Johnson should devote more attention to social problems at home "because we also have major commitments to our own citizens."

Army Held Short Of Major Items

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Army divisions and brigades that form a strategic reserve to meet any new crisis abroad are short nearly one-fifth of their major equipment.

This situation exists more that two years after the Defense Department began putting in heavy orders for gear and supplies to support a big military buildup for the Vietnam war.

ARMY REPLIES

Asked for a report on the present equipment situation in the strategic reserves, the Army replied yesterday: "The active Army divisions and brigades currently stationed in continental United States have on hand approximately 82 per cent of their authorized . . . major end items equipment."

The Army defined a major end item as "one which in itself performs a function" such as trucks and tanks.

It estimated only about one-half of the shortages will be filled by June 30.

Beyond an across-the-board percentage the Army declined on security grounds to provide a detailed breakdown of short items.

But while the strategic reserves are short of their allotted equipment, the Army apparently has made progress in modernizing their gear.

QUALITY HIT

In May 1966 the Senate preparedness subcommittee complained stateside divisions were burdened with over-age vehicles and tracked equipment which has been driven "an excessive number of miles."

The new report said fewer than 1.2 per cent of the major items on hand are less than first-line quality.

The preparedness subcommittee charged in March 1966 that the Army's divisions in the United States were not combat-ready because they were being used to train draftees and recruits. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara acknowledged this was so.

A separate Army report, furnished on request to the Associated Press, showed this problem has been overcome. The Army said no basic trainees remain in the ranks of its divisions and brigades in the United States.

Furthermore, virtually all of those units are at 100 per cent strength, with many of their men Vietnam combat veterans, the Army said.

Only two divisions, one a mechanized infantry division and one an armored division, are below full strength and these, sources said, range between 95 per cent and 100 per cent, of full manpower.

FOUR DIVISION

There are four Army divisions in the strategic reserves.

They are the 1st Armored Division and 2nd Armored Division, both at Fort Hood, Texas; the 5th Mechanized Division at Fort Carson, Colo.; and the 82nd Airborne Division at Ft. Bragg, N.C.

A new division, the 6th Infantry, is beginning to take shape at Fort Campbell, Ky. It will probably not be combat-ready until late this year.

When the United States decided to take the big plunge in Vietnam in the summer of 1965, the Army's strategic reserve was made up of eight divisions plus two brigades.

LBJ ORDER

Antirecession Panel Is Still Minus Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ten months after President Johnson ordered a Cabinet-level commission to begin work at once on an antirecession strategy for a peace-time economy its members still haven't delivered a formal proposal to the White House.

"There is no report in the sense of a report for the President to act on," a Commerce Department official said in an interview. "We're working on it, though I can't say at any furious pace."

ECONOMIC BOOM

Johnson, saying an end to the Vietnam war could jeopardize the economic boom that began in early 1961, directed Chairman Gardner Ackley of the Council of Economic Advisers and other aides last January "to begin at once a major and coordinated effort" to prepare for the economics of peace.

"When that welcome day of peace arrives, we will need quick adjustments in our economic policies," Johnson said in his annual economic message to Congress last Jan. 26. "We must be prepared for those adjustments, ready to act rapidly."

NO COMMENT

The White House had no comment on the commission's work although one spokesman said he hadn't heard anything about it since March.

It was on March 5 that Johnson named these men to share with Ackley the responsibility for setting up the new economic machinery:

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz, Secretary of Commerce Alexander B. Trowbridge and Director Charles L. Schultze of the Budget Bureau.

Of these, Ackley is leaving the Council of Economic Advisers to become U.S. ambassador to Italy; McNamara has resigned to become president of the World Bank, and Schultze has resigned to become a senior fellow at Brookings Institution. None has actually left his post yet.

Two who did talk briefly about them said the principal difficulty in planning redirection of the economy is that no one knows when the war will end, under what conditions it will end or in what state its end will find the economy.

The commission would have to "be prepared to advise (the President) at any point in time that this war should end under any circumstances," said Charles B. Warden Jr., Ackley's special assistant. "What's true on any May 1 won't necessarily be true on June 1."

"Every time we try to do it (the plan) the figures change," said Edward K. Smith, Commerce Department deputy assistant secretary for economic policy.

Warden said while there have been no formal reports, there has been "a passing of memos" among the commissioners.

CLASH OVER FOOD TAX

Reagan Revives 'Big Daddy' Tag

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The old, abandoned nickname of "Big Daddy" came back to haunt Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh today—this time irreverently exhumed by Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan.

But their differences went deeper than nomenclature—the two powerful politicians clashed on what could be a major feature of the governor's tax reform plans.

Reagan told his news conference yesterday he would give "serious consideration" to a proposal by one of his citizens task forces that the state sales tax be extended to the purchases of food and other goods.

Unruh, who called a news conference afterward, said he and the Assembly Democratic caucus were "utterly, absolutely" opposed to the idea.

Answering questions from newsmen, Reagan repeatedly made pointed references to the legislator as "Big Daddy," a name applied to Unruh—never to his face—a few years ago when the Inglewood Democrat weighed 285 pounds.

Unruh didn't like it then, and he made it clear to newsmen yesterday that he doesn't like it now. Besides, he let it be known he weighs right around 200 pounds today.

The nickname died a silent death when Unruh showed up four years ago with his 5-11 frame trimmed and slimmed by a starvation diet.

The governor was asked for a response to Unruh's move Tuesday to reshuffle Assembly committee chairmanships at the expense of Republicans in the wake of Monday's abortive attempt by the GOP to oust Unruh as speaker.

"It would seem that it takes more than a change of tailor to change the image of Big Daddy," remarked 185 - pound Reagan.

"I think he made it very plain that in spite of any words to the contrary the speaker has every intention, on a partisan basis, of blocking a program of the administration.

"I think that the people of California deserve better," said Reagan.

"I really don't like it," responded Unruh. "I think it is a sort of poor taste on his (Reagan's) part, but I'm not going to resort to that sort of name-calling myself."

The legislator said he was "somewhat amused and a little amazed that the governor would find it necessary to resort to name calling this early in the session."

Instead of name-calling, Unruh blamed Reagan for "goading" Republican legislators into forcing partisan showdowns on the re-election of himself as speaker and Sen. Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno, as president pro tempore of the upper house.

"It is an awful temptation to take credit for it," Reagan said in response to the charge, but he added: "The truth of the matter is I had nothing to do with it.

"I'm sure that the speaker, Big Daddy, would like to have this get down to a contest between himself and myself," said Reagan, "but this isn't true."

STATE IDEA OF ID CARD FOR EVERYONE

SACRAMENTO (AP) — What does a senior citizen who has no driver's license use for identification to cash a check?

Or how does a non-driving young lady prove to a bartender she's the legal drinking age of 21 without carrying a bulky birth certificate around?

Barnes has introduced a bill to provide issuance of ID cards by the state Department of Motor Vehicles to non-drivers who pay $2 and provide satisfactory proof of their identity.

Woodwind Specialist

Jean Stevens, woodwind specialist and music chairman at the Santa Venetia Middle School, will instruct a new music course at Sonoma State College beginning Feb. 12. She will teach woodwind instrumental techniques Thursdays from 4 to 5:30 p.m.

Reagan Launches Favorite Son Drive With Delegate Committee

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Ronald Reagan, launching his favorite son presidential candidacy, today named a 36-member citizens committee to screen prospective California delegates to the August Republican national convention.

Only Marin County member named was Reagan's former appointments secretary, Thomas C. Reed of Ross.

Reagan indicated at a news conference yesterday, meanwhile, that a five-day Eastern and Midwestern trip next week would be his "final swan song" of political tours before the convention.

HELD DELEGATION

Los Angeles attorney William French Smith, picked as head of the delegation organizing committee, said each of the 86 delegates and alternates would be asked to remain committed to Reagan until released by the California governor from their pledges, no matter how many ballots are taken.

Although Reagan has repeatedly denied that he expects to be a serious 1968 presidential candidate, he plans to enter home-state California's June 4 primary as a favorite son to avoid a party-shattering fight among presidential hopefuls.

SEES NO FIGHT

If he wins the primary—and he has said he doesn't expect to be challenged—Reagan will go to the convention with California's 86 - member delegation pledged to win.

In announcing the selection committee, the governor said he wanted the delegation to be "broadbased" and represent "all segments of the party" in the nation's most populous state.

But Smith immediately announced that neither of the state's two U.S. senators—Republicans Thomas H. Kuchel and George Murphy—would be picked as delegates, because "they did not choose to be delegates." He said Murphy excused himself because of his duties as Senate campaign committee chairman and Kuchel because he is expected to be a candidate for re-election.

SHUNS OREGON

The governor was asked if he could conceive of any circumstances under which he would campaign as an active candidate in neighboring Oregon, where his name is expected to be on the open primary ballot.

"No, I can't," he answered. "I have no such intention."

He also said, in response to a question, that he had not been approached to make more speeches in New Hampshire, site of the nation's first primary in March.

"If I had, I can tell you the answer would be no," he said. "I've done everything I can in New Hampshire to stop that write-in campaign and I'm not going to do anything more to open that can of peas."

Heads Homeowners

Bernie Heare has been elected 1968 president of the Bayside Acres Homeowners Association. Other new officers are Frank Guerrini, vice-president; Mrs. J. C. Ewing, treasurer, and Mrs. Daniel Polak, secretary.

Reagan Admits Puzzle Of Medi-Cal Payoffs

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan's finance chief can detail where the money came from to pay off a $60 million Medi-Cal deficit, but the governor says he's not sure that's right.

The subject of the confusing finances of the state's medical care program for the poor arose again yesterday at the Reagan's weekly news conference.

Reporters asked Reagan to confirm that the deficit incurred last fiscal year was paid off and that the payoff funds were as described last week by Finance Director Gordon P. Smith.

BONUSES USED

Smith said the bills were paid with $40 million in unused school unification bonus money and $20 million from more efficient operation of Medi-Cal.

But Reagan said yesterday "there is controversy now over whether there was this $40 million or not ... We are still checking."

He said "I was convinced myself" that $40 million was from school funds, but "the accountants tell me 'hold up on that, wait a minute until we check.'"

'DON'T KNOW'

"You paid the money but you don't know where it came from?" asked a reporter.

"That's right," Reagan replied.

The reporter pursued him: "You paid the money but you don't know where the money you paid came from?"

"That's right."

Meanwhile, the state's fiscal expert told a Senate Finance Committee hearing that the state's present tax system cannot provide funds for future Medi-Cal costs.

Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post said he feels the program this fiscal year will stay within its budgeted $305 million in state funds.

CHANGES URGED

But a "rapid reorganization of the systems" of medical care now available to the poor will be necessary if Medi-Cal is to succeed in the more distant future, Post said.

Spencer Williams, Health and Welfare Agency administrator, predicted that 300,000 more Californians will use Medi-Cal benefits in fiscal 1968 than in this year. Some 1.5 million now are eligible for Medi-Cal aid now.

The committee seeks to determine if Medi-Cal is fulfilling its intended purpose.

Tentative Map Wins Approval

The Larkspur Planning Commission has approved a tentative subdivision map for a 20-acre parcel owned by Belardo Co. of Greenbrae and located in the Bon Air district.

The commission also completed final draft of a revised sign ordinance Tuesday and will present it soon to the city council.

Commissioner Charles Curley was elected chairman, replacing Colin K. White. New vice chairman is Victor Donati.

People-To-People Program Slump Brings Proposals

The Sausalito People-to-People Committee Tuesday night was faced with the problem it called the meeting about — lack of popular support.

Before a scant crowd, the committee discussed the problems of the program, whose best-known part is the Sister City program with Vina del Mar, Chile, and came up with two firm suggestions.

A form letter will be given to Welcome Wagon Inc., for distribution to new residents, telling them about the program and encouraging them to take part.

City Councilmen Jan Paul Dyk and Eleanor Chapin agreed to draft a letter to all civic organizations, schools and churches, asking for volunteers from each to serve on the committee, and pointing out the need for community support of the program.

The organizations will be asked to reply by Jan. 23, when the city council has scheduled a study session.

Stereo Theft Is Reported

Ruth Arroyo of 6 Circle Way, Homestead Valley, told sheriff's deputies that someone broke into her home Monday and stole $463 worth of equipment, including a stereophonic set, records and a radio.

Burglars entered the Ruth Hatter home at 1049 Las Gallinas Avenue, Terra Linda, the same day and took $5 a saxaphone, a radio, two watches, a shotgun and a ceremonial sword, deputies said.

On Sunday night, thieves broke into the car of Elizabeth Ann Givens of 855 Tiburon Boulevard, Tiburon, while it was parked at the heliport in Manzanita, and stole clothes, suitcases and other items worth more than $300, deputies reported today.

'BEST-DRESSED'

Lynda Bird Replaces Mother

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Lynda Bird Johnson Robb, a White House bride only five weeks ago, has moved onto the international list of best-dressed women for the first time. Her mom, the First Lady, who made it last year, was dropped.

Lynda Bird, now Mrs. Charles Spittal Robb, the wife of a Marine Corps captain, ranked ninth in the list of 12 women selected annually. Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson had appeared in the list for the first time last year, in fifth place, but the committee of fashion editors which made the new selections did not explain why she was eliminated from the new ratings.

The winning spot in the fashion sweepstakes went to Gloria Vanderbilt (Mrs. Wyatt Emory Cooper), the wife of an artist, who has placed somewhere in each of the annual listings since 1962. She was third last year.

THE LIST for 1967, announced Tuesday, follows:

Mrs. Wyatt Emory Cooper.

Mrs. Carter A. Amanda Burden, daughter of the perennial best-dresser, Mrs. William Paley.

Mrs. Charlotte Ford Niarchos, elder daughter of Henry Ford II, and divorced from the Greek shipping millionaire, Stavros Niarchos.

Mrs. Harilaos Theodoracopulos, the former Betsy Pickering, a New York model, now the wife of a Greek shipping millionaire.

Mrs. Angier Biddle Duke, wife of the U. S. ambassador to Spain.

Lauren Bacall, actress.

Mrs. Henry Ford II, of Detroit, second wife of the automobile magnate.

Mrs. Charles Spittal Robb.

Princess Alexandra of Kent (Mrs. Angus Ogilvy), the only titled European to make the list. She is a cousin of Queen Elizabeth of Britain.

MRS. REAGAN and Miss Dunaway, as well as the daughter of President Johnson, were newcomers to the new list. Speculation was that the new Mrs. Robb rated, while the First Lady did not, because of the worldwide coverage given to her wedding Dec. 9. The balloting for the best dressed honors began about the same time.

Selections are made each year on the basis of returns from 2,000 ballots sent to fashion experts and designers, socialites and other observers of the international scene.

A spokesman for the selections committee said that although Mrs. Cooper polled the most votes, some of the rankings were decided by as few as a three- or four-vote margin.

This year, no one was elevated to the Hall of Fame, citing those who have appeared on the list so often they finally are removed from competition with honors for their "unchallenged style leadership."

THE HALL of Fame was created with the 1958 list. It now includes such as Mrs. John F. Kennedy, Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, Queen Elizabeth II of Britain, Queen Sirikit of Thailand, Princess Grace of Monaco, the Duchess of Windsor, the Duchess of Kent, Mrs. William Paley, Mrs. Winston Guest, the first Mrs. Henry Ford, Mrs. Loel Guinness, Mme. Herve Alphand, Merle Oberon and Irene Dunne.

The newest ratings toppled Princess Radziwill from the top spot she rated in 1966, to sixth place in 1967. Mrs. Burden, who at 22 was the youngest ever to head the list, held second place for the second time. The former Amanda Mortimer was number one in 1965.

Although Princess Alexandra was the only titled European listed, high in the voting were Baronne Philippe de Rothschild the former Pauline Potter, born in America, Baroness Fiona Thyssen, Princess Ira von Furstenberg, and the Marquesa de Villa Verde, duaghter of Spain's Generalissimo Franco.

NANCY REAGAN 'FLATTERED'

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Mrs. Nancy Reagan, one of 12 women named to the international list of best-dressed women, says money is not a "determining factor to get you on the list."

"You can dress well without spending lots of money," said California's attractive first lady Tuesday after learning of her selection to the list. "You can dress well without spending lots of money. I hang on to clothes if I like them."

The petite wife of Gov. Ronald Reagan said she was "very flattered" to be chosen as one of the best-dressed women by a committee of fashion editors.

Mrs. Regan said she had no strict rules for selecting her clothes. She said she prefers the clothes of Los Angeles designer Galanos, but "I also like other designers, too."

"I like clothes to be simple," the former actress said. "I'm not a ruffly girl."

Hayakawas Attend Capital State Dinner

By MOLLY MARIN

December included an interesting experience for the S. I. Hayakawas of Mill Valley, who flew to Washington, D. C., to attend the state dinner honoring Japanese Prime Minister Sato. The internationally known semanticist had received a special invitation as a prominent Japanese-American. Mrs. Hayakawa, who wore a turquoise bengaline evening gown for the occasion, said it was both a stately and friendly occasion. They met the President, his wife and Lynda and were seated at a table for eight that included the vice president's wife, Mrs. Hubert Humphrey, and the noted fashion designer Molly Parnis.

SET FOR Monday is the awards banquet for the Belvedere Sailing Society which will begin with cocktails at 6 p.m. and dinner at 7 p.m., at the San Francisco Yacht Club, Belvedere. Retiring Commodore Samuel Mann and Mrs. Mann will entertain the society's board of directors at a cocktail-buffet party at their home on the Belvedere Lagoon Sunday. The Manns' daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Yale Roe of Winnetka, Ill., and their three children, visited the family in Belvedere for two weeks during the holiday season. Dr. and Mrs. Mann will host two events in February. They have invited 22 friends for a cocktail-buffet party in the Commodore's Room at San Francisco Yacht Club on Feb. 4, and will give a dinner for 50 at Bali's Restaurant in San Francisco on Feb. 18.

THE SABELLA CLAN has been busy having birthday parties for their children at the family restaurant. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Sabella entertained on Saturday for their daughters, Michelle, age 7, and Dominica, age 3. Mr. and Mrs.

Thomas Marks (Angela Sabella) gave a party on Sunday for their son, Jeffrey, age 3.

THE STAG dinner for members will be held at the San Francisco Yacht Club in Belvedere beginning at 6 p.m. Saturday. One hundred and fifty yachtsmen will attend the annual dinner, with many planning to stay aboard yachts in Belvedere Cove that night. O. R. Holm is chairman.

RETURNED to Mill Valley from Hawaii are Mr. and Mrs. Adren Aitken, who made up thier minds in 10 minutes to go, not even opening their Christmas presents and cards, and in 36 hours were installed at the Princess Kuailani Hotel. They stayed 10 days at Waikiki Beach and then flew to the islands of Hawaii, Maui and Kauai.

A LUNCHEON and kitchen shower honoring bride-elect Stephanie Lea Wickham was given Sunday by Mrs. James Rutledge and her daughter Jill, who will be Stephanie's maid of honor. Stephanie, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Wickham of Mill Valley, will become the bride of Reed Searles Witt, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. John Witt of Larkspur, on Feb. 3 at the Redwoods Presbyterian Church in Larkspur. The color scheme for the luncheon decorations was olive green, orange and gold, the colors Stephanie has chosen for her kitchen. Among the 26 guests present were the mother of the bride-elect and grandmother, Mrs. J. B. Phelps of Mill Valley, and the bridesmaids. These are Nancy Davis of San Anselmo, Stephanie's Kappa Alpha Theta sorority sister at San Jose State College, and Mrs. Thomas O'Neil, and Barbara Breeze and Marcia Johnson, all of Mill Valley.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Forewarning From In-Laws Shows They'd Be Difficult To Live With

DEAR HELEN:

I don't like to hurt people and because of this I'm in a terrible mess.

When Carl started getting serious, I told him I wasn't ready for marriage. He said, "That's okay, you'll marry me sometime." I thought he was joking, and kept on dating him until he left for the Army. Honest, I never once gave him hope.

Next thing I knew, he'd sent me an engagement ring. I was about to return it when his mother called and begged me to keep it just until he got back from Vietnam. She made him sound so lonely and brave that I gave in.

Then it started. His family watched every move I made. If I even talked to another boy, I got threatening calls. I couldn't take it, so I sent the ring back.

Then the roof fell in. His brother beat up my brother. His mother told around that I led her boy on and left him to die on the battlefield. Carl wrote that if I didn't take the ring back I would be responsible if he got killed.

His parents brought over a bunch of his letters last night and left them for my folks to read. They're like a crazy person wrote them. If I say I'll be engaged again, it will be even worse when he comes home. If I call it off, and he doesn't come back, I'll always hate myself. What shall I do?

—TOO KINDHEARTED

DEAR TKH:

This is emotional blackmail, and if you let it continue your soft heart may bring you a hard life.

Be firm about not accepting the ring and make sure Carl and his parents know exactly the reasons why, though make your letter to him as kind as possible. Even if you loved him, I doubt your marriage could survive the in-laws.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

The kid who hates his grandfather: He'll feel different after it's too late. I did.

My grandfather lived at our house for about 15 years. He griped about the younger generation and fussed when friends came. He sulked too, and was often unreasonable. But, now that he's gone, I miss him so much I can't stand it. It's then you remember all the good things about him, and wish you'de let him know you knew them.—J.

DEAR HELEN:

My grandfather was an alcoholic. He got drunk one day and sold his house. That's when he came to live with us. Everything was on edge and there was always an argument going on. He was sloppy and loud, and I often screamed back at him.

Liquor finally killed him. Then I began to think of the wonderful things he had done and how good at heart he really was, and how maybe he wouldn't have drunk so much if we had been kinder.

I hope that "Grandfather-Hater" follows your advice, Helen, and treats him like a human being. When an elderly person dies and you know you've made him feel necessary and wanted, you have good memories. But when you have wished him gone, — he has sensed it and your guilty conscience just won't quit. —UNGRATEFUL GRANDFATHER

ART REVIEW

New Members Show Same Yet Different

By LAURA DEVENDORF

It's easy to see why year after year there's a consistency about the Marin Society of Artists' group shows.

In many ways, the new member show through Jan. 28 at the Ross Art and Garden Center gallery looks just like the regular member shows. It has the usual mixture of styles and media combined into areas of excitement, balanced by areas that are sometimes very tired. Only the names seem a little foreign, belonging as they do to members who joined within the past year.

But there is a bigger difference. New as they are, a large percentage of the artists in this show are already posing a not-too-subtle threat to more established names. Tony Williams, Liesel Rosenthal and Bernadette Cole were all winners in MSA's big event, the recent annual. And they provide the new member show with many of its high points.

BEST IN SHOW

Williams, who received the annual's best-in-show award, shows two more of his deceptively stark canvases devoted to illusion through colored geometery. Miss Cole, who received an award in crafts, is represented with a crusty, mixed-media painting in oranges and grey. Sculpture winner Rosenthal, in addition to another terra cotta piece, displays equal finesse in painting with a sectioned ink and watercolor in rich stained glass colors.

Several recent MSA exhibits have also included the work of Don Henrico and Harriette Frances. Henrico, much like Williams, concentrates on simple geometry and color. But in this show, he releases his work from the traditional picture confines and allows the painting's edges to follow the bend and angles of its color-banded forms.

WELL DRAWN

In the figurative field, Miss Frances is certain to be as much of a force in future MSA shows as she is in this one. Her white-shirted girl set against a swirling blue, green, red and purple background is very much its title "Now." And the writhing, reaching figures in her lithograph are provocative and well drawn.

The new member show offers several other works that lend variety or promise, such as Candra Hoag York's woodcut "Quarry," Carl Bent's metal mobile, Jack E. Herold's newspaper and magazine collage and Dede Sievers' hot-colored abstract.

EVERY TASTE

As a group, this new crop of artists reinforces the MSA image of something for every taste and, considering that their work here was unjuried, is arranged with a good degree of interest.

Individually, however, it is clear that the newer approaches are the most vital. And though regular members working in the older, tested veins would seem to have little to fear, when newer ideas are involved, the regulars may soon suffer from some real competition.

Obituary Error

DRAMA REVIEW

ACT Stumbles In 'White America'

By KARL BARRON

SAN FRANCISCO — The American Conservatory Theater's first venture into current social commentary came last night at the Marines' Memorial Theater with an uneven production of Martin Duberman's "In White America."

Although it is a documentary rather than a play, it is possible to stage it with gripping emotional impact, as evinced by a sparkling production at the Contemporary Theater several seasons ago.

FAILS TO BUILD

This one, under Nagle Jackson's direction, comes on strong with an immediate attack on the audience, but fails to build logically in the second act to the rousing climax of the entire cast singing, "We've got to hold up the bloodstained banner."

Duberman has taken his material from myriad sources from the 18th Century to the present. Much of it is humorous, much thought-provoking, and most of it tragic. From Thomas Jefferson — played, ironically, by Anthony Williams, a Negro — who said, "The blacks are inferior to the whites in the endowments of both body and mind," to the present day racists, we are given the picture of a people relegated to second-class citizenship.

WAR RECALLED

We learn of the incredible treatment of Negro soldiers in the Pacific theater during World War II, hear the words of Marcus Garvey who, long before Malcolm X, advocated "black power."

The first act is devoted to the Negro's lot before the Civil War and includes John Brown's final message, with its ominous prediction, born out the past several summers — "I am now certain that the crimes of this guilty land will never be purged away but with blood!"

ACT's first act is good, sparked by the fine singing of Ann Weldon who, in her second dramatic appearance, shows great promise. She portrays such divergent characters as a woman testifying about a whipping administered by the Ku Klux Klan; Sojourner Truth, and the first Negro girl to attempt admission to Little Rock's white school. In this last, Miss Weldon's emotion became a little too uncontrolled for my taste, but this is a mild quibble. She's very good, and has a fine sense of comedy.

ACTORS FALTER

The second act, however, is structured to build with gradually increasing involvement on the part of the actors, and here the production fails. Jackson has tried mightily with pacing, but the actors let him down. Robert Herron is uncertain, and his Garvey is all sound and fury with no depth.

Glenn Mazen's John Brown is properly fiery, but in the geat speech by Senator Tillman on the sacredness of Southern womanhood, Mazen goes wild, losing the humor completely.

GOOD, BAD

Anthony Williams, Dana Larsen and John Schuck all have good moments, but also have bad ones, in which characterization and or timing go to pot.

The seventh member of the cast, for whom I have nothing but praise, is Gil Turner, whose banjo, guitar, harmonica and fine folk baritone tie the show together. As though this were not enough, Turner steps into the play to do a magnificently understated Klansman testifying at a federal inquiry.

Jackson has updated the play with short references at the end to H. Rap Brown and LBJ, but they seem to be obvious updatings, rather than motivations toward the ultimate crescendo.

Michael Clivener's lighting deserves mention. It is fluid and effective. Apparently not expecting box office, ACT has only scheduled "In White America" for January 20 at 8:30 p.m., Jan. 28th at 7:30 p.m., and Feb. 3 and 14 at 8:30 p.m.

Art Commission Set To Discuss Center

The Mill Valley Art Commission will discuss location of a proposed art center to house workshops and have room for performing arts at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the city manager's office.

The commission will also elect 1968 officers.

Lynch, Brown Disagree On Demo Fund Chores

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch says he will not help raise funds for the pro-Johnson presidential delegation he will head in California.

Lynch told the Los Angeles Times in a telephone interview yesterday from San Francisco that as the state's chief law officer he would be placed in a "difficult position asking people for money."

PROPER ACTION

Brown said in Los Angeles that he considers it proper for Lynch—who survived the Republican landslide that ousted Brown and placed Gov. Reagan in office—to solicit funds.

"Every Democratic leader has to raise money and he is the only statewide elected Democratic official," Brown said of Lynch.

But Brown, now a Beverly Hills attorney, said that "any public official" is in a "difficult position to raise money" because contributors expect favors.

"This whole thing of raising money is the most hypocritical and difficult thing I encountered in my life," Brown declared.

THE EXPENSE

"California campaigns are so expensive it's scandalous—and you kid yourself if you don't think people expect favors. Time after time they come back asking for something."

The former governor said state Democrats might get by on a 1968 campaign war chest of $250,000 because news media are providing so much information fewer commercial pitches may be needed.

"We'll all have to get together and raise what it takes," Brown said, adding that it was Lynch's job to appoint three or four co-chairmen in the state to take charge of fund raising.

Lynch also said he wouldn't take time off from the duties of his office to make campaign speeches.

"I am not going to utilize the time I owe the state, or the time of any member of my staff" for campaigning, he declared, but added he would campaign on his days off.

Reception Said Good For Forum For Marin City

A community forum plan for Marin City has received "excellent reception" at a meeting in Civic Center, attorney Bella Aaron reported.

Mrs. Aaron, a member of the Marin County Human Rights Commission, heads a steering committee to plan a town meeting type of organization in Marin City.

About 35 persons, including youths representing various organizations, attended Tuesday's meeting. "Everyone seemed to be in favor of a community forum," said Mrs. Aaron.

She announced that another meeting will be held later this month in Marin City.

A community forum can be a powerful force in Marin City because it would help eliminate rivalries that now exist among various organizations in the community, said Mrs. Aaron.

Library Opinion Will Be Sought

A questionnaire on location of a Sausalito Library will be mailed soon to all registered voters in Sausalito.

The Sausalito Library board Monday reviewed the questionnaire, and it will be mailed as soon as the city council has a chance to review it.

Voters will be asked whether a new library is necessary, and if so, what part of town it should be built in.

Unions Urge Boycott In RCA Feud

A call to Marin union members to boycott Radio Corporation of America products has been made by the Marin Labor Council and Marin Trades Council.

This is the latest move in a feud between RCA and the American Communications Association Union over wages. An estimated 110 Marin workers have been unemployed since the dispute began Dec. 1.

Manuel Rodrigues of ACA local 9 said the labor and trades council had asked all its members to boycott RCA products including television sets, radios and tape recorders — sold in Marin.

He said union members would be outside about a dozen stores that sell RCA products to hand out leaflets.

The local says members have been locked out of company radio facilities in West Marin since their contract expired Nov. 30.

RCA's transmitting station at Bolinas, its receiving station at Point Reyes and KPH marine radio at Inverness, normally employ 63 persons. Other Marin residents are out of work at RCA installations in San Francisco. Operations have continued, however, with management personnel.

Rodrigues said picketing was continuing in Marin.

Murder Trial Delayed For Sanity Hearing

Mary Jo Goodson, 36, accused of stabbing her 3-year-old son to death Dec. 30, was certified into Marin Superior Court yesterday for a sanity hearing. Court proceedings on her murder charge were suspended.

Municipal Court Judge Peter Allen Smith, on the recommendation of Public Defender Jerome C. Durham and with concurrence from the district attorney, expressed doubt about her sanity and ability to cooperate with an attorney.

She is to appear Monday in Superior Court, where psychiatrists will be appointed to report for a sanity hearing.

Mrs. Goodson is accused of fatally stabbing her son, Richard Anthony Goodson Jr. His body was found in a storage room of their apartment building at 725 Kerner Boulevard, San Rafael. Police said the boy was stabbed at least twice in the back.

Auto Believed Escape Vehicle

But Richard L. Shepherd, 27, who walked away from his construction job outside prison walls on Dec. 30, is still missing.

The car was stolen in Greenbrae, prison authorities said, but local police did not know the owner of the car, found parked in back of a Fresno home Tuesday.

Shepherd was serving a five-to-15 year sentence for assault of a police officer with a deadly weapon.

Guilty Plea To Drunken Driving

William Logan Duncan, 59, of 25 Chabot Terrace, San Rafael, has pleaded guilty in Marin Municipal Court to drunken driving Dec. 18 on Highway 101, where the California Highway Patrol arrested him.

Judge Hadden W. Roth fined him $230 and placed him on six months of probation Tuesday.

Martin Robert Higgins Jr., 26, of 45 Tamal Vista, Corte Madera, was fined $100 and put on six months' probation for drunken driving Dec. 14 on Madera Boulevard, Corte Madera.

Marin To Ask Delay On Eel River Routing

The Marin County Board of Supervisors, at suggestions of Gen. Mgr. William R. Seeger, of Marin Municipal Water District, has recommended that decision be delayed on a conveyor route for water from the Eel River Middle Fork.

CORPS IDEA

The Army Corps of Engineers has recommended a 705-foot-high dam at Dos Rios, which would flood the Round Valley area and the town of Covelo in Mendocino County.

The state, which is responsible for the design of the water conveyances to the Sacramento River, has recommended an easterly route through Glenn County.

But Lake County supervisors, who feel that a route through Clear Lake would help to alleviate the lake's algae problem, commissioned a report by Kaiser Engineering, which recommended no immediate decisions on the routing.

MARIN SUPPLY

Seeger pointed out the controversy affects Marin County, because some of the county's water supply may eventually come from the Eel River.

Seeger reported to the directors that the district's revenue for the first five months of this fiscal year was $1,778,907, as compared with $1,786,197 for the same period last year. Revenue from new connections to subdivisions is down sharply, however, because of the building slump. The total is $74,111 for the first five months, compared with $339,413 last year.

Water District directors also:

CONTRACTS — Awarded contracts for supplying water purification to low bidder F. M. Speekman Co. of San Francisco, 590 tons of hydrated lime, $18,772, and nine tons of copper sulfate, $3,574; Allied Chemical Co., San Francisco, 900 tons of liquid aluminum sulfate, $35,460; Continental Chemical, North Sacramento, 65 tons of liquid chlorine, $7,200.

PIPELINE—Approved a pipeline extension into the Larkspur subdivision of Meadow Lark Co., at a fee of $14,991.

Students Break With Chancellor

BERKELEY (AP) — Officers of the Associated Students of the University of California have declared themselves independent of the authority of Chancellor Roger Heyns.

Heyns was criticized for removing power from the ASUC Senate and voiding the results of an election in which three suspended students received the most votes.

The ASUC referred to what it called Heyns' "outrageous attempts to interfere with the internal functioning of the ASUC."

Report On Sutter

Richard Dillon of Mill Valley, author of a recent biography of John Sutter entitled "Fool's Gold," will talk about the so-called "Father of California" at noon Jan. 23 before the California Historial Society at Montgomery House Restaurant in San Francisco. Dillon is a librarian at Sutro Library in San Francisco.

Larkspur Plans Librarian Hunt

The Larkspur Library board will begin recruiting a head librarian for June 1 hiring to replace Mrs. Helen S. Wilson, who is retiring.

Starting salary is expected to be about $600 a month, library officials said. The library has a staff of three full-time employees and one part-time. Mrs. Lois Rand is assistant librarian.

Possible merger of the Larkspur Library with Corte Madera also was discussed Tuesday. Larkspur City Mgr. Kent B. Bathurst is preparing a merger plan to be presented to the city council, according to Mrs. Wilson. She said a study toward a possible regional library to serve lower Ross Valley, including Larkspur, Corte Madera, and Kentfield, also is under way.

REDS' RED TAPE

Subterfuge Needed To Send Out Cash

By THERON A. NEWELL

People behind the iron curtain do not complain of their way of life. The are angered that they cannot send or take enough money out of their countries.

These are the observations of Katherine De Brecht, 21, of Novato, who returned recently from 18 months of study in Germany and left this week to attend the University of California at Davis. She is the daughter of Novato school Asst. Supt. and Mrs. Eugene De Brecht, 58 Shields Lane.

Kathy attended Goettingen University, which is 80 miles south of Hanover and 12 miles from the East German border.

During her stay in West Germany, she visited Austria, Hungary, Czeckoslovakia and East Berlin. She also visited rural communities in Germany, observing old customs and collecting dolls with native dress.

At the university, Miss De Brecht stayed in a dormitory with 60 students. One of them was a Hungarian girl. When Miss De Brecht went to Hungary, the girl's parents insisted on paying all of her expenses while she was there. They then asked her to give that amount of her own money to their daughter when Mis De Brecht returned to Germany.

Miss De Brecht said the Hungarian girl could not receive more than $10 from her parents during her entire stay in Germany because of censorship.

The girl's mother was planning to visit her. The mother asked Miss De Brecht if the $10 would be enough to get her from the nearest crossing in East Germany to the university and back. She could travel all she wanter to through the Iron Curtain countries, the mother said, but she could only take $10 when she crossed the border.

Bullet holes from the ill-fated uprising in Hungary were visible throughout Budapest, Mils De Brecht said.

The Czechs seemed to be a freer and happier people than those in Austria and Hungary, Miss De Brecht said.

She remembered bicycle trips through the smaller cities in Southern Germany near the Swiss border. She told of the City of Laufenberg which straddles Germany and Switzerland on the Rhine River.

"The people there consider that they all belong to one city, even though it is in two countries," Miss De Brecht said. Even World War II could not destroy this feeling of the people, she said.

On Shrove Tuesday, "Fool's Guild" members in Laufenberg dressed up in traditional costumes, Miss De Brecht said, and carried gunny sacks filled with oranges, bread rolls and sausages donated by the merchants to throw to children.

She like the old world customs and dress so much that she collected about 50 dolls in native dress from the various parts of Europe.

Miss De Brecht went to Europe under the "Education Abroad Program" of the University of California and received full credit for her work there. She will graduate from the Davis campus in June.

In order to qualify for the program, she needed two years of college German. She also took a refresher course in the language once in Germany. It gave her the ability to converse and study in the language.

TAX SUNDAY DRIVERS

Span Surcharge To Help Parks?

Why not impose a toll surcharge on passenger cars crossing Golden Gate Bridge on weekends and holidays to finance recreational facilities in the bridge district?

This idea was posed yesterday by County Recreation Director Pierre W. Joske before the Marin County Recreation and Park Commission.

Joske said he is thinking of a 25-cent surcharge on passenger vehicles (not trucks or buses), making the toll 50 cents on weekends and holidays "on the theory that they are out looking for recreation and we could use the funds to provide them with recreational facilities."

He said that the funds from the surcharge could be distributed to the six counties in the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District, including Marin.

Joske believed a surcharge would take special legislation in Sacramento. He has asked County Administrator Alan Bruce to include this idea among the items to be considered for possible legislation.

Commissioners said they are not too optimistic that bridge directors would endorse the proposal.

July Target Date For Lagoon Study

Preliminary reports on the current master plan studies at Bolinas Lagoon may be available about July, planning consultant Norman T. Gilroy of Mill Valley reported yesterday to the Marin County Recreation and Park Commission.

Gilroy, coordinator of the master planning program on the Lagoon, gave a progress report, using slides to illustrate.

The study is being conducted by the federal government, Bolinas Harbor District, and the county. The county share of the cost is $29,500, about one-fourth of the total.

The aim of the project, said Gilroy, is "to set down criteria necessary to insure that man can co-exist with nature in the Lagoon area."

Sedimentation, soil, erosion and ecology are among the areas under study. Dr. Joel Gustafson of Mill Valley will report on plant and animal life, Gilroy reported.

Also yesterday, County Recreation Director Pierre W. Joske used colored slides to explain his proposal for a 250-acre recreational park in the marshlands of East Corte Madera he said can be provided by dump and fill operation without cost to taxpayers. Joske has made similar presentations to the Corte Madera Town Council and neighborhood groups.

Principal opposition seems to be the fear of odors from the dump, and reluctance by Corte Madera to take the land off the tax rolls, Joske reported.

The commission unanimously endorsed the concept of the park and urged Corte Madera to support the idea.

Rec Commission Eyes Strip Mining Future

Several small strip mining operations for mercury are going on between Hicks Valley and Marshall on Salmon Creek Road, County Recreation Director Pierre W. Joske reported yesterday.

Joske told county park and recreation commissioners the information he has now is hearsay, and he intends to visit the mines before making a full report to the commission.

Commissioner Gibbs Lawson reported he had talked to some of the persons involved in the mining operations.

"They are not fly-by-night operators and the operations are intended to last for five years or more," said Lawson. "If we can reach a cooperative position with them, I think it will help the county."

Chairman Melton Ferris said that the commission is taking no stand on strip mining, and only wants information on what happens to the land after the mining operations are completed.

Ferris said some of the mine operators have mistakenly concluded that the commission is opposed to strip mining.

Joske said he hopes to have details on the mining by the commission meeting at 2 p.m. Feb. 7 in the Civic Center.

Joske Asks Priority Boost For China Camp Park Site

Acquisition of China Camp has priority in a six-year capital improvement program for beaches and parks outlined yesterday by Marin County Recreation Director Pierre W. Joske.

The date for acquiring China Camp was moved ahead to 1968-69 "because of its urgency and the extreme desirability of using the remaining state bond funds for this acquisition," Joske told county park and recreation commissioners. Previous date for acquisition was 1970-71.

The Paganini Point acquisition in San Rafael has been eliminated because a residence has been built on the proposed park site, Joske reported.

Three new projects added to the capital improvement program are Tom's Point, Millerton-Tomasini park, and Elephant Rocks geological preserve.

Tom's Point, 300 acres at the mouth of Keys Creek south of Dillon Beach, has access to the east shore of Tomales Bay.

The Millerton-Tomasini park would comprise 50 acres on the east side of Tomales Bay below Marshall for swimming, boating, fishing and park facilities.

Other projects in the six-year program include 300 to 500 acres around the Nicasio Reservoir, Manzanita Marina Green near Richardson Bay Bridge, Stafford Lake in Novato, and Deer Park in Fairfax.

The Marin Parks And Recreation Commission Also:

MEETING CHANGE — Set the next meeting for 2 p.m. Feb. 7, instead of Feb. 14. Joske said a conference on open space is set for Feb. 14 in the San Francisco Hilton, with the National Association of Counties as host. New officers of the commission will be elected at the Feb. 7 meeting.

ST. HILARY'S — Backed a request by the Landmarks Society of Tiburon that the Old St. Hilary's Church in Tiburon be listed by the state as a "point of historical interest."

WORKSHOP — Asked Joske to seek a two-hour workshop with the county supervisors in March or April. Chairman Melton Ferris said he wants an hour for a slide presentation of proposed and existing park facilities, and an hour of discussion.

CONSERVATION COUNCIL — Agreed to have commission representation at a meeting of the Conservation Council of Marin at 8 p.m. Jan. 17 at the Marin Rod and Gun Club.

Work On Monday For Post Office

Work on remodeling the empty McAfee department store in the Nave Shopping Center into a new post office for Novato will start Monday, according to Richard Nave, shopping center owner.

The $125,000 job of remodeling the 19,000-square-foot building will be done by the Richard Soellner Construction Co. of Ross, Nave said.

The contract calls for the work to be done in 90 days and the post office should be in its new quarters by April 15, said Harry Overly, Novato postmaster.

Medical Terminology Course Still Open

Last day for registration in a course in "Medical Terminology, Anatomy and Physicology," offered in the adult education department of the College of Marin, is Jan. 23.

The class began Jan. 2 and will continue from 7:30-9:30 p.m. Tuesdays at the Nurses Building of the college for four months. It is taught by Mrs. Kay Butler of Kentfield, a nurse, with lectures by Marin physicians.

Marin Given Date To Fight Bus Rate Hike

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — The California Public Utilities Commission yesterday set 15 days in February and March to hear Greyhound Lines' application to raise commute fares for most of its local operations in the state.

Marin County was given March 6-8 to present its case against the application, which would raise fares by about 50 per cent. The county has hired R. L. Banks and Associates Inc. of Washington, D.C., to prepare its case.

Commission examiner John M. Mallory, in a pre-hearing conference yesterday in the state building, set the hearing for Feb. 7-9, 14-16 and 28-29, and Mar. 1, 6-8 and 13-15. He reserved Mar. 13 for members of the public to present their views on the application.

Almost 400 commuters have written to protest the proposed fare hike, said commission attorney Vincent V. MacKenzie, "and I don't know how many will want to testify."

Mallory also set a meeting at 9 a.m. on Jan. 22 in room 7194 of the state building at 455 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, for persons to review financial exhibits prepared for the hearings by Greyhound and commission staffs.

MENTAL HEALTH DOUBTS RAISED

Psychiatrists On Radio Panel Voice Reservations On Center Administration

Two psychiatrists today expressed doubts and distrust of the medical establishment which will administer the new Community Mental Health Center. It is to be run by Marin General Hospital, with some of the purse strings and policy authority held by the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

Drs. Wiliam Bewley and Jean L. M. Pouteau, private psychiatrists who appeared on the KTIM "Sounding Board" program, complained that no one has spelled out specifically what the mental health center will do for the emotional health of people.

They said they thought the emphasis should be on preventative psychology. Dr. Pouteau said an example was counseling of pregnant women before they are able to develop negative attitudes toward their unborn children.

FEARS BELITTLED

Mrs. Marion Ibach, president of Marin Hospital District trustees, said she thought fears of whether a conventional medical establishment could operate a mental health program are "exaggerated."

"The time has run out when we can have a jurisdictional dispute over who owns the applicant," she said.

Dr. Pouteau replied that if the mental health program focuses on areas of prevention, "it can do nothing but benefit." He said a negative alternative would be "development of a massive, monoithic program which would squeeze out private psychiatry."

In reply to a question to a listener to the program, which will be repeated at 9 p.m. today over KTIM-FM, Asst. County Administrator Thomas F. Campanella said there is no intent to squeeze out Dr. Clyde G. Miller, county director of Community Mental Heath Services. Dr. Miller's responsibilities will continue in the new program, he said.

Dr. Pouteau said Marin Genera Hospital is a "traditional operation." He said, "I don't see that it has demonstrated the subtlety to handle the complexities of a program like this."

Dr. Bewley, a director of the Marin Association for Mental Health, said preventative care should be the "real concept" behind the mental health center, and that the public should be offered "strong, well documented specific assurances" of what kind of services will be offered.

SCOPE NOT SET

In reply to a listener asking whether the center would offer help in marital relations, mother-child relations and juvenile delinquency prevention, Mrs. Ibach said that would be up to the center director.

Campanella said the center would offer patient care, partial day care, continuation of an out-patient program, emergency psychiatric care and consultation. The county's present contract with Ross General Hospital for psychiatric services will continue, he said.

The mental health center, under construction at Marin General Hospital, is to be completed in the autumn.

MARIN POLL

Health Group To Use TV Smoking Quiz

The Marin Interagency Council on Smoking and Health plans to conduct a poll of Marin cigarette smokers in connection with a televised "National Smoking Test" Tuesday.

Council Chairman John Parker today asked cigarette smokers to take the test which will be televised at 10 p.m. on CBS (Channel 5) and send their completed, unsigned answer sheets to the council office at 920 Grand Avenue, San Rafael.

The test is designed to give a smoker insight into his motivation, and the council hopes to accumulate various "smoking profiles" of Marin residents from the answers, he said.

Dr. Gerald Hill, a San Rafael psychiatrist and council member, worked with national health authorities on studies which resulted in the smoking test, Parker reported.

"We have found a way to classify all adult smokers into six categories," Dr. Hill said. "The first step in giving up the habit is to recognize what type of smoker you are."

Test answer sheets can be obtained at Ross General Hospital, Marin General Hospital, local offices of various volunteer health associations, the Marin County Public Health Department, medical and dental societies, and the 14th District Parent-Teacher Association office, the council reported.

Viewers also can mark their answers on a sheet of paper and send them in, he said.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

If It Costs A Trick, Just Keep Part Of Message Quiet

It's often a splendid idea to tell your partner which tricks you expect to win, but not if it costs a trick to give him the message. At those rates he can afford to wait a couple of minutes and find out for himself.

KING OPENER

When today's hand was played in the recent national tournament in New Orleans, West opened the king of diamonds. Declarer played low from the dummy and East signaled encouragement by playing the seven.

West then went through all the classic motions of thinking. He rubbed his chin, scratched his head and puffed hard on a cigarette. Who could ask for more? West then cashed the king of clubs before resuming the diamonds.

SETS UP SPADES

Declarer won the second diamond with dummy's ace and returned the king of spades. East refused the trick, and West began a signal with the seven.

Now South had to abandon the spades in order to draw trumps. After three rounds of trumps declarer ruffed dummy's last diamond and led another spade, forcing out the ace.

NO SAFE RETURN

With only black cards left in his hand, East had no safe return. If he led a spade, dummy would get two spade tricks. East therefore led a low club. South likewise played low, and West had to play the ace to beat dummy's ten. South lost only two clubs, one spade and one diamond, making his contract.

West would have beaten the contract if he hadn't cashed the king of clubs. When East eventually led a low club, West would win with the king. He would then get out safely with a diamond, and South would still have to give up two more club tricks.

Tallest Living Thing Is A Redwood Tree

SCOTIA (UPI) — The world's tallest known living thing is a redwood tree in Northern California, according to researchers at the University of California. The tree, in Humboldt State Park, is 369.2 feet tall — 18 inches higher than another redwood near Orick, which previously was considered the world's tallest.

The tree is near U.S. 101, the Redwood Highway, U.S. Forester Paul J. Zinke said people had been walking past the tree for years without recognizing its significance.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, Jan. 11, the 11th day of 1968 with 355 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full stage. The morning star is Venus. The evening stars are Mars, Saturn and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1878, Alexander Campbell, a Brooklyn milkman, delivered milk to his customers in glass bottles—a first.

In 1935, Amelia Earhart flew from Honolulu to Oakland, Calif., to become the first woman to solo the Pacific.

In 1964, a committee of the Surgeon General's office issued a report linking cigarette smoking with lung cancer.

A thought for the day: Poet Walt Whitman said, "Once fully enslaved, no nation, state, city of this earth, ever afterward resumes its liberty."

Just over 7,000 miles, but this car still carries the new car Buick warranty of 50,000 miles of 5 years, due to the fact that the purchaser will be the first owner of record with General Motors.

Hippie Housing Fine Is Upped

SANTA ROSA (AP)—Former folk-singer Lou Gottlieb, one-time member of the Limelighters, has been ordered to pay a fine of $200 for each day he allows hippies to remain on his Morning Star ranch.

Judge Lincoln S. Mahan ordered the continuing penalties, in addition to activating an earlier $2,500 fine, after Gottlieb said, "The Divine does not permit me to obey court orders."

MEADERS' spot detectives uncover spills and stains you may not even know about. Then it's up to Meaders' skilled spotter. In his laboratory filled with dozens of cleaning compounds he analyzes and removes spots from your garment before it goes into the cleaning machine—and again after, if necessary. Here's a safe bet: if Meaders can't remove a spot, it probably can't be done.

FIRING INTO THE ENEMY

Two U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division soldiers fire an 81mm mortar toward an area where North Vietnamese Army troops are entrenched. The sandbagged mortar position is part of Landing Zone Leslie, about 30 miles southwest of DaNang in South Vietnam's Que Son Valley.

Humphrey Heads Home

TUNIS (AP)—Vice President H. Humphrey left for Washington today after a 13-day, nine-nation African tour on which he said he sought to "make clear America's commitment . . . to peaceful development and human opportunity."

"Our stay in Africa has been short. But we shall return to America with the clear message that this is a continent filled with men and women fiercely devoted to national independence, to human dignity, to the hard work of self help and to peaceful cooperation for the common good," Humphrey said in a departure statement.

A 250-Year-Old Violin Is Stolen

The losses were discovered after a man was seen leaving the house with a sack of loot and driving away in a 1956 Ford, officers reported.

Ministerial Student Back In Classes

Henry D. Gregory, 25, San Francisco Theological Seminary student who refused to take a pre-induction Army physical, returned to classes today after being questioned by an FBI agent.

Gregory said he refused to answer several of the FBI man's questions, but was otherwise cooperative. The Oakland induction center said that Gregory's papers will be returned to his Marin draft board.

Gregory refused to apply for the draft exemption which is available to ministerial students and instead chose to refuse to be drafted.

A security form, on which the individual states that he is not a member of a Communist organization, is given to inductees. Gregory planned to refuse to sign the statement, expecting a several weeks delay until birth of the couple's child, then he planned to refuse induction.

He said he refused to sign the form at the induction center and was told to go upstairs and take his physical anyway. He refused.

Five students at the seminary who returned their draft cards have lost their ministerial student exemptions and have been re-classified 1-A. One of the ministerial students, John Seaman, has been ordered inducted, but is appealing the order.

Liberal Talk Is On Agenda

"The Demise of the White Liberal" will be the title of a talk by Gregory Baines, a staff member of Sausalito School District, at the annual meeting of the Marin Committee for Fair Play at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Unitarian Church of Marin, Terra Linda.

Baines is coordinator of the study hall and tutoring program for kindergarten through college students in Marin City and also teaches at the Guidance Learning Center in Southern Marin.

Dinner will also be held. Mrs. Martin Roth of Fairfax is in charge of reservations.

Injuries Minor In Auto Crash

A Novato woman suffered minor injuries at 6:30 a.m. yesterday when struck by a car on Highway 101 at Grant Avenue in Novato, the California Highway Patrol said.

Phyllis Alexander, 21, of 809 Diablo Avenue, Apt. 16, was treated at Novato General Hospital for knee cuts and scrapes.

The highway patrol identified the driver as George Wade Saunders, 34, of 77 Western Drive, also Novato. He said he was leaving a service station when the accident happened.

Dixie Trustees Vote Science Study Funds

Dixie School District trustees last night voted to contribute $3,500 of district funds to add to a $24,950 grant from the National Science Foundation to improve science instruction.

The grant will provide for a supervising director responsible for training 20 teachers.

Seven primary reading specialists, financed by the Miller-Unruh School Finance Act of 1966, reported on their activities in the district. Both the reading specialists and Supt. Dennie B. Willis reported that the program had been "greatly improved" since the specialists were added to the staff in September 1966.

The Dixie School District Trustees also:

MATH TEST — Heard a report from Dr. Penrod Moss, assistant superintendent for curriculum, on the results of a mathematics test given to sixth and eighth graders. He found the students doing well in the "fundamental processes of whole numbers."

CONSULTANT — Authorized the employment of a consultant in reading and math for an in-service education program to be given March 18-20.

GIFTS — Accepted gifts totalling $875 in value from Marinwood Home and School Club and $405 worth of equipment from Santa Margarita Teachers-Parent Association.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted the resignations of Mrs. Linda O'Connor, kindergarten teacher at Bernard Hoffman School, and Mrs. Margaret Ann Fowler, second grade teacher at Mary Silveira School. They are moving from Marin.

Innocent Pleas To Interference

Two brothers and a friend pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to charges they interfered with sheriff's deputies searching their home Dec. 29 for a Juvenile Hall escapee.

Jury trial was scheduled for Feb. 27 for Robert Dale Litteral, 20, and Harry Alexander Litteral, 18, both of 812 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield.

Also on trial will be Arthur Vette Hatter, 18, of 1049 Las Gallinas, Terra Linda, also charged with possessing narcotics paraphernalia.

Track-Field Power War Back To Where It Started

NEW YORK (AP) — And the war goes on. And on and on.

The struggle for supremacy in track and field between the National Collegiate Athletic Association and the Amateur Athletic Union reverted to its infancy yesterday when the NCAA officially called off the federally imposed moratorium at its annual convention here.

An NCAA council statement, approved by the convention at large, said that beginning after the 1968 Olympics, the NCAA would again insist on "certifying" any non-collegiate meet that college athletes take part in.

FIRST POLICY

This was the policy first adopted in January 1965 that led to a summer full of bitterness before the NCAA, at the request of the U.S. Senate, agreed not to enforce the certification rule pending the decision of a panel headed by labor mediator Theodore Kheel.

The AAU has always insisted that it is the only body that can sanction a meet and would not ask for NCAA certification of the meets it sponsors.

The NCAA, for its part, will not ask the AAU for sanction of its meets where non-college athletes sometimes compete.

Kheel has promised that his committee will render its long-awaited decision soon, perhaps next month, but NCAA executive director Walter Byers said the council was unwilling to wait before reinstating the certification rule.

IN NOVEMBER

He said it would not be enforced until November because commitments had already been made for the current indoor track season and because the council did not want to interfere with Olympic preparations.

Byers obliquely issued a warning to the Kheel committee, saying, "We will not be bound by any decision that does not permit us to look out for our own athletes."

In other action, NCAA modified its 1.6 student eligibility rule—though not enough to suit some members—and voted to allow freshmen to compete in all varsity sports except football and basketball.

The 1.6 rule requires a student to project that numerical average, about a C minus, on entrance tests approved by the NCAA and to maintain that average through his college career in order to compete on college teams.

As modified, though, he need not maintain the 1.6 average if he projects that average on admission tables equal to or harder than the NCAA tables. This, however, failed to satisfy the Ivy League and some other schools.

In a statement circulated on the floor of the convention, Rutgers President Dr. Mason W. Gross protested against what he termed "a ridiculously unjust and inflexible application of the rule."

The rule permitting freshmen to compete on varsity teams takes effect immediately, some persons predicted that football and basketball players would soon be allowed to play as freshmen, too.

The convention also acted to equalize preseason football practice, adopting a rule allowing a team to use any one of three formulas to permit a maximum of 29 practice sessions before its first game.

JIM GILMARTIN

Yes, Water Skiing In The Cow Palace

THE BIG, BIG SHEW — The following conversation quite possibly could take place tomorrow evening at the Jaap Suyderhoud residence at 222 Sequoia Drive, San Anselmo:

"Michael, my boy, where in the world are you going with those water skis at this time of day? Have you gone daft or something?"

"Golly, no, Pops. Where do you think I'd be going? Why, I'm going water skiing, of course."

MIKE SUYDERHOUD

"Get off my back, son. No one goes water skiing at this time of night — let alone this time of year. You're pulling my leg. You're joshing me, that's what. Pray tell, son, just where are you planning to ski? In Hawaii? Tahiti? Perhaps Florida?"

"Hello, operator? Get me the psycho ward at Ross General Hospital. I do believe my son has flipped his lid. He thinks he's going water skiing at the COW PALACE!!!!

No, Jaap, your son Michael has not qualified for the silly farm. He just happens to be the world champion water skier and actually will be one of the featured performers at the San Francisco National Sports and Boat Show opening tomorrow at the Moo Mansion, alias Guernsey Gym. The Drake High School senior will be one of several champions demonstrating the unique indoor water ski training and practice device at the show's Ski Nautique Exhibit.

Which brings to mind the S.F. Show's kaleidoscope of activities for young and old, male and female, rich and . . . well, it would help to bring your checkbook along, lest you succumb to the many goodies for sale.

Take Some Loose Change Along

Like, for example, in the massive marine display. If you have some loose change, you might surprise the Missus by buying the "queen" of all boat shows — Tollycraft's super luxurious 50-foot "Discoverer." The price tag: $110,000, largest and most expensive boat ever displayed at any show in the country. (Discoverer was sailed to S. F. from the Puget Sound by Bill Muggenthaler of Loch Lomond Yacht Sales, San Rafael.)

But don't let that price scare you. The show's boat prices start for as little as $359.

Proving that variety is the spice of life, show manager Tom Rooney again has arranged a versatile exhibition that will cater to campers, hunters, anglers, mountaineers, sailors and just about everyone interested in the great outdoors.

For example, one firm will unveil its 8½-foot camper with a monomatic otty-pay. I think monomatic means it's a one-seater. Also, for those who like to rough it, there will be Motor Homes with air conditioning, stereo and television.

And, just the ticket for you dirty old outdoorsmen is the new Porta-Shower which is exactly what the name implies — a portable pressurized shower completely self-contained.

Quite A Variety Of Things

Some other interesting items to look for: Snowmobiles, ideal for hunting, fishing, racing or just lollygagging around in the snow; new Glas-Lite hunting and target archery sets made of pretensioned fiberglass; the City of Berkeley will present an educational exhibit on the principal types of fish caught in the local bay waters and immediate Pacific Ocean (a different kind of fish will be featured each day, frozen in a 300-pound block of ice); Houseboats, including a 42-footer called the "floating mansion" with floor plans available in six-, eight- or ten-sleeper models; a gun and revolver collection, some dating back to the Pilgrims in 1620 and including a mini-revolver that can be concealed in the palm of your hand; a fly casting school and demonstration by world-renowned Scot Peter Anderson in a special 110-foot long, landscaped pool; aeronautical and skin diving exhibits, etc. and etc.

And, of course, that crazy Suyderhoud kid. Now, who ever heard of water skiing in the Cow Palace? Except sea-going cows.

The show, which will continue through Jan. 21, will be open 2-11 p.m. daily starting tomorrow, 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. on Saturdays and 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Sundays.

Lombardi Pep Talk Key Weapon

FORT LAUDERALE, Fla. (AP) — The Vince Lombardi pep talk is an awesome Green Bay Packers weapon that can make a quarterback want to run through a wall.

Bart Starr spoke of the Packers' emotional approach to football before today's workout for Sunday's Super Bowl game with the Oakland Raiders at Miami's Orange Bowl.

"Coach Lombardi has said things that make me think I could run through a wall in the middle of the week," said Green Bay's quarterback. "He makes you wish you could play the game today.

EMOTIONAL GAMES

"Football is a very emotional game. Physically, you know you'll be ready for Sunday. But if you're not ready emotionally and mentally, you can't do it on Saturday night."

"Sometimes, he will talk to the club before the first practice of the week," Starr said. "Sometimes, it will be later—whenever it comes naturally. Some people may think it is a lot of college and high school stuff but you have to be ready emotionally.

"Money is a great incentive. You'd be silly to say it wasn't with big money ($15,000 a man) at stake. But the big thing is pride and prestige in yourself and the whole league. We like to think we are representing every guard, every end, every back, every player in the National Football League. The league championship means more now than it used to. And this game is the climax of it all," he said.

THE GAMBLE

Starr's dramatic gamble on the quarterback sneak from the one yard line that beat Dallas on New Year's Eve still is the talk of pro football.

Calling Starr a gambler is like calling Fran Tarkenton a pocket passer. When Bart gambles, it's usually like a sure thing bettor putting $50,000 to show a 1-10 favorite.

Starr may throw the bomb on first down on the first play of a game but the quarterback sneak normally is not his cup of tea. He still tries to pretend the sneak wasn't such a gamble.

"We had 13 seconds left," he said. "We might have got the kicking team in. How long does it take to run 40 yards from the bench? About six seconds. We might have got off a kick.

HAD TO SCORE

"But, honestly, we never thought of it. We wanted to put the ball in there. We felt we just had to score. When I went to the sidelines to talk to coach, we had decided to send Donny Anderson in one more time. We thought he was over the first time from the three. We discussed a number of things but settled on Anderson. After he slipped, I thought I had a better chance myself."

Starr echoed the party line on Oakland, the American Football League champions, treating them with utmost respect.

"It is difficult to prepare for them because we have no past book on them," he said.

"Last year, Kansas City defensed us good in the first half. Their offense moved the ball in the first half. They were real high," he said.

LAUDS OAKLAND

"Oakland is a darn good football team. They only lost one game. Their linebackers support the front men and help the deep men. They have two very quick tackles in Tom Keating and Dan Birdwell as well as two good ends. They don't always play the basic four man line. They do a lot of jumping around. It can be confusing," Starr said.

Have you spotted any place you think the Packers can take advantage of?

"We hope so. I am sure they feel the same way about us. We'll find out Sunday," he added.

Six Stars To Boycott N.Y. Meet

BALTIMORE (AP) — At least six world track record holders plan to boycott the New York Athletic Club's indoor meet next month unless the club drops discriminatory membership practices, according to Dr. Harry Edwards, leader of a movement to have Negroes boycott the U.S. Olympic team.

Edwards, a sociology professor at San Jose State College, said he has received telegrams from some of the nation's leading track figures who report they will not compete in the NYAC meet in New York Feb. 16.

CLOSED

Membership in the NYAC is not open to Negroes and Jews and Edwards' group has demanded the club open its membership without regard to race as one of six conditions for dropping its planned Olympic boycott.

Edwards reported yesterday that those who sent telegrams indicating they would not participate in the NYAC's meet, oldest in the world, included:

McGRADY

Big Names Of Golfdom, Celebrities Begin Play In Bing Crosby Pro-Am

PEBBLE BEACH (UPI) — Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer, Billy Casper, Don January and Gay Brewer, who among them won most of the money and the cheers a year ago, all were on hand today to help launch the 1968 PGA tour with the $104,500 Bing Crosby National Pro-Am.

Nicklaus, two time Masters champ and leading money winner in 1967 with $188,998, and Palmer, winner of five tourneys and $184,065, were the co-favorites for the Crosby, a carnival-like tourney which this year sends the pros on their way in pursuit of $4,250,000 in purses, the most ever.

Casper, who won only two tourney titles in 1967 but finished high enough in others to bag $129,423, was rated right behind the top two, as were January, the PGA champ, and Brewer, the Masters king last year.

The field of 168 pros also included four of the five pros who scored their first tourney victories last year—Lou Graham, Charley Sifford, Marty Fleckman and Dave Stockton—plus all of the top 10 money winners except Julius Boros and Dan Sikes, who were fourth and fifth, respectively, last year.

The weather, which plays a big part in the Crosby, plagued practice rounds earlier in the week but held up enough to permit today's opening round to be played under clear skies. A year ago, the third round was washed out completely by gale winds and rain. Once, this tourney was called off altogether because of snow.

Nicklaus played three practice rounds over the three courses used in the Crosby—6,972-yard Spyglass Hill, 6,474-yard Pebble Beach and 6,564-yard Cypress Point. All three courses are set at par 72.

Nicklaus, who has won just about every tourney worth winning in his short six years on the PGA tour, is seeking to become only the third man ever to win two Crosby titles. Casper turned the trick in 1958 and 1964 and Cary Middlecoff in 1955-56.

GRAND FINISH

Last Year, Nicklaus, Palmer and Casper started the final round only a stroke apart but when it was all over Nicklaus won by five strokes over Casper and seven over Palmer by bagging seven birdies on a windswept day.

New Center Helps Seals Gain A Tie

Hampson and defenseman Bert Marshall were obtained 24 hours earlier in a trade with the Detroit Red Wings.

Hampson converted a shot by Marshall at 11:12 to extend the Seals undefeated string to three games.

WORLD ALPINE CUP

Austrian Girl Takes Lead

GRINDELWALD, Switzerland (AP) — Gertraud Gabl of Austria took the lead in the World Alpine Cup competition today with a clear victory in the special slalom.

The 19-year-old totalled 76.83 seconds for the two runs, ahead of two French girls, Isabelle Mir in 77.79 and Marielle Goitschel in 77.84.

With the Winter Olympics less than a month away the United States squad finally clicked after a series of disappointments. They took five places in the top 20, including three in the first leg.

Wendy Allen, 23, San Pedro, was fourth in 78.52, Rosie Fortna, 21, Warren, Vt., sixth in 79.21, Kiki Cutter, 18, Bend, Ore., eighth in 79.46, Penny McCoy, 18, Bishop, 13th in 79.98, and Judy Nagel, 16, Unimclaw, Wash., 20th in 83.63.

Judy was the sensation of the meeting. She started 95th in the first run when the course was already badly broken up and clocked the amazing time of 42.76.

Her performance can be measured by the fact that in the last group of 30, her time was a full four seconds faster than her nearest rival.

Then, in the second run she did it again, this time clocking 40.87 with start No. 81, although the course was in such bad shape by this time that green patches were showing through the snow.

"Fantastic, unreal," commented U.S. team manager Bob Beattie as the rest of the girls crowded round to congratulate the exhausted little brunette, who is in her first European season.

Defending World Cup champion Nancy Greene of Canada, who dislikes soft snow, disappointed today and could only manage fifth. She is now third in the World Cup standings with 38 points, behind Gabl with 48 and Goitschell with 40.

And It's Already 'Big Game' Time

By GARY TISCHLER

The Marin County Athletic League basketball season has barely gotten under way and already it's "Big Game" time.

We're talking about the Tamalpais-Redwood game tomorrow night.

The Indians, heavy pre-season picks to capture the title, looked like champs all the way Tuesday when they disposed of Marin Catholic, 61-42.

The Giants, rated as one of the teams that will give the Indians a run for their money, have already won a pair of games, routing Novato, 66-35, then nipping San Rafael, 55-50.

The Redwood Giants may be a team that could give Pat Schafer and Company trouble in the area where they excel — on the boards.

Six-five Tom Seidenberg is fast shaping into one of the better centers in the league but he'll have his hands full against Schafer, who scoops up rebounds and blocks shots like a whirlybird.

Ace in the hole for the Indians — in addition to Schafer, Leroy Barrow and Floyd Jackson — may be a fellow named Ron Small, whose only problem is inexperience. He lacks no hustle and plays defense fanatically.

The Giants will have an edge on the Indians in the bench department. They've used around ten players in every game, and most of them can score.

The Indian bench, to say the least, is thin, but with a starting crew such as they have, you don't need a bench all that much.

DRAKE, TRYING for its third straight league title, got a bad jolt at the hands of Novato, 59-41, Tuesday. This, at the hands of a team that the Pirates had already beaten, 53-49, a team that had lost to Redwood by 31 points.

SPEAKING OF showdowns, there's still another one coming up tomorrow. This one's in wrestling when Redwood's unbeaten varsity wrestlers test defending MCAL champ Novato, which hasn't lost a dual meet since 1966.

Coach Phil Roark's Giants have already hung up one loop scalp, taking Terra Linda, 26-19, but the Hornets have dumped Tamalpais.

For the Giants, it will be Jay and Jeff Pedersen at 147 and 114 pounds, respectively, while the Hornets have twin brothers Kirt (105) and Ken Donaldsen (112).

FORMER MARIN COUNTY Athletic League athletes turn up in the strangest places.

And Steve Spurling, who helped the San Rafael Bulldogs get a share of the MCAL grid title back in 1963 when he scored on a 40-yard run in a 26-12 triumph over Drake, is now at San Jose State.

Football? No. Spurling's listed on the San Jose State judo roster. A junior psychology major, he'll be a member of the Spartans' defending NCAA champion team, which has won the national judo title for the past five years, same number of years that judo has been an NCAA sport.

SPORTS, BOAT SHOW ON HORIZON

This 41-foot auxiliary racing cruising sloop K-41 will join hundreds of other boats and thousands of other outdoors items on display at the San Francisco National Sports and Boat Show which opens a 10-day run at the Cow Palace tomorrow. Show hours are 2-11 p.m. weekdays, 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. on Saturdays and 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. Sundays.

ATHLETE OF YEAR

Yaz Is The Man

WAKEFIELD, Mass. (AP) — A heavily perspiring Carl Yastrzemski had just finished one of his rugged daily workouts when he was told he had been voted Male Athlete of the Year for 1967 by an overwhelming margin in the annual Associated Press poll.

"I know what it's like to be on top and I want to stay on top," the slugging Boston Red Sox outfielder said in explaining what motivates him to keep squeezing trips to the gym into his hectic off-season schedule.

HARD WORK

"I worked hard to get where I am, and I'm not going to get complacent now," he added.

Yastrzemski, who earned the American League's Most Valuable Player award and Triple Crown in batting while leading the underdog Red Sox to the pennant, said he wanted to say more than "just the usual things" about this latest award.

"This is really one of the outstanding honors, and I want everybody who voted for me to know how thankful I am," he said. "A lot of awards are for just one sport, like baseball, but this one is especially important where it takes in so many thousands of athletes in all sports."

The balloting by 376 sports writers and broadcasters was no contest, with Yastrzemski picking up 210 first-place votes and 879 points on a basis of three for a first-place vote, two for second and one for third.

Baltimore Colts' quarterback John Unitas, the National Football League's MVP, was a distant second with 267 points. Next in order were Jim Ryun, who broke his own world record for the mile run with a 3.51.1 clocking; pro golfer Jack Nicklaus, who set a money-winning record of $188,988; and ace halfback O.J. Simpson, who led Southern California to the national college football championship.

Yastrzemski is the third baseball player in a row to win the honor, the sixth in the last seven years, and the 15th since Pepper Martin of the St. Louis Cardinals won the first one in 1931. Frank Robinson of Baltimore, who also took the A.L.'s Triple Crown, was the 1966 winner.

Yastrzemski led the AL in five batting departments, including a .326 average and 121 runs batted in, and tied Minnesota's Harmon Killebrew for most home runs with 44.

The 28-year-old outfielder also sparkled in the field and was at his best all season in the clutch, climaxing his tremendous year by going 7-for-8 and driving in six runs in the "must" victories over Minnesota on the last two days of the season. He kept it up in the World Series, hitting .400 with three home runs in the losing effort against the St. Louis Cardinals.

Yaz said the inspiration of being in the pennant fight was a big factor in his individual success.

"Every time I came to the plate last season I knew it meant something," he said.

He also credited "being surrounded by outstanding ball players," and said he hopes for another big year rested on his teammates' performances.

"I can't drive in runs if there's nobody on base, and I'm not going to get the pitches unless the guys behind me are hitting," he said.

"Nobody can do it alone, except maybe a Mantle," he said. "And I'm not that big or that strong."

Yesterday's workout was squeezed in between business appointments and a baseball dinner in Manchester, N.H. Yaz said he would work out again today and also tomorrow morning, then fly to Baltimore for a dinner appearance Friday night and fly back Saturday to go to the gym again.

"People ask me if I don't get tired of this banquet circuit," he said, "and the answer is no. Baseball has done a lot for me, helping me get a college education and a good standard of living.

"If it weren't for baseball I'd probably be back on a potato farm. I just hope I can put some little thing back in the game for all it has given me."

Jimmy Lester Wins Split Decision Over Carl Moore

Lester won the rematch mainly on the strength of a fifth-round knockdown. Moore's gloves barely touched the canvas and he was back on his feet at the start of the mandatory eight count.

FOOTBALL

NEW YORK — Bill Murray, former Duke University football coach and now executive secretary of the American Football Coaches Association, received the Touchdown Club Award for his service to football.

NEW YORK — Murray Warmath, long time coach at the University of Minnesota, was chosen president of the American Football Coaches Association.

MOSCOW, Idaho — Y. C. McNease, an assistant coach at the University of Michigan, was named head football coach at the University of Idaho.

Crosby play one round each over the three courses. The low 70 and ties, both in the pro and pro-am divisions, then wrap it up on Sunday—at Pebble Beach. Portions of Saturday's and Sunday's rounds will be telecast nationally by ABC with the Sunday windup following on the heels of the Super Bowl game.

Neither Nicklaus nor Palmer were happy with their practice rounds for the Crosby. Both have been idle since pairing to win the World Cup at Mexico City in mid-November.

"PLAYING LOUSY"

"The clubs feel a little strange to me," said Big Jack, who played Cypress Point with Palmer.

Among the better amateurs in the field were Bob Dickson, the British and U.S. Open champion, and collegiate king John Miller of Brigham Young University.

43 TOURNEYS

A total of 43 tourneys are on the PGA schedule this year and only three of them carry purses under $100,000. Both the Azalea Open and Cajun Classic still are pegged at $35,000 while the Pensacola Open is set at $80,000.

From the Crosby, the pros go on to the Kaiser International at Napa, the Los Angeles Open, the Bob Hope Desert Classic, the Andy Williams-San Diego Open, and the Phoenix and Tucson Opens before the scene shifts East for the Doral Open on March 7.

A total of $80,000, with a top of $16,000, will be divided in the Crosby with an additional $20,000 in the pro-am section.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
I-J Fish and Game Writer

STEVENS

Generally speaking, the picture of angling locally and afield is draped in mourning. Whether it be salmon, steelhead or striped bass, most reports are negative.

It isn't so much a lack of fish as of fishermen. Ben Shinaku, of the 60 Main bait shop in Isleton, puts it tersely: "This near freezing weather compounded by heavy ground fog is keeping fishermen indoors. Very few have been coming out. To show what I mean, last year on Jan. 8 I had sold almost two-and-a-half books of licenses. This year I just made out the 18th license (there are 25 licenses to a book)."

Last Tuesday, a reader called me to ask if a jack rabbit was good to eat. Seems he and his young son ran across a bunch of rabbits. Each killed a bunny.

RABBIT HUNTING (jacks) is one fine way to break in a youngster in handling and firing the rifle he got for Christmas. As far as the eatability of our long-eared jack, when properly prepared they very palatable. The objection some folks have to skinning out and cooking a jack rabbit comes from the fact that at certain times of the year, and with certain animals, boils may appear on the belly. Even the cooks who like rabbits as food usually discard these boil-infested rabbits, but not all jack have the boils — not by a long shot — and the younger jack rabbits, made into a stew are really mighty tasty.

I have had jackrabbit stew on many occasions and like it very much. I always tried to keep only the younger jacks for the table. They are easy to clean and if you would like a proven recipe for cooking rabbits, send me a self-addressed and stamped envelope and I'll be glad to oblige.

Maris Okay, Signs Pact

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Roger Maris shrugged off the effects of Bell's Palsy, expressed desire for the baseball season to start and signed his 1968 contract with the St. Louis Cardinals.

In a novel telephone hookup between St. Louis and St. Petersburg, Fla., General Manager Bing Devine announced that Maris signed for the same salary he made last year. Estimates put Maris in the $75,000 class. Devine said the telephone news conference was an idea he picked up while serving as general manager of the New York Mets.

Maris was in Florida working out details of his new job with the beer company that co-sponsors the Cardinals' game. He and his brother have been granted an Anheuser-Busch distributorship.

The outfielder, who is the second player named by the tract, had announced that he plans to move to Florida later in the year.

Maris, the Cardinals' top run producer in the seven-game World Series against the Boston Red Sox, said he was virtually through with the ailment that had affected the muscles on the right side of his face.

"Right now the Bell's palsy is very good and I'm feeling no effects whatever. It came along a lot faster than I had thought it Cardinals to sign a 1968 contwould."

Dr. I. C. Middleman said from St. Petersburg Maris' condition held true to the rule that the ailment lasted from four to eight weeks. He said Maris developed the illness in the middle of December.

Maris said he would follow Manager Red Schoendienst' lead as far as how much he would play. Schoendienst commented, "I might take him out against an especially tough lefthander, or when we play a night game and then a day game. I don't care how young a player is, you have to give everyone a rest."

Cal Bears Waiting Eagerly

"Alcindor may not be able to make some of his moves as much as he has against other centers. I think he's looking to this game to find out how strong he really is."

It's a Pacific-8 Conference contest between UCLA, 2-0, and California, 1-1, which was cold and hot last week on a trip into Oregon.

Besides the Alcindor-Presley test, there'll be a personal duel between high scoring Russ Critchfield of the Berkeley Bears and the Uclans' star guard, Lucius Allen.

Presley is the nation's seventh leading rebounder. If he continues his pace, he will break eight California season records, including points, field goal percentage and rebounds.

Critchfield has averaged 22.1 points per game — two less than Presley. He has made 50 per cent of his shots, many from the outside. Despite pressure from fans, the Bears are trying to prepare as if it were any other ball game.

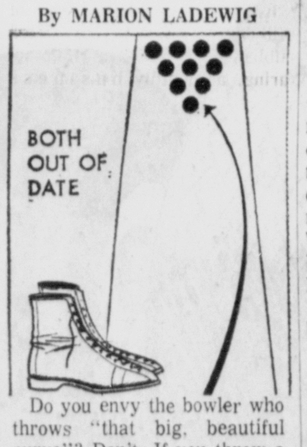
"I don't feel any special pressure to do a lot of scoring," said Critchfield. "After playing against them last year, I know what to expect and I certainly won't put more emphasis on this one than on Southern California Saturday night.

Presley spoke freely.

"I'm not afraid of Alcindor, but I have a great deal of respect for him," said the Cal center. "I've been told I can block some of his shots. But if that's the case, what is he going to do to mine? I know the game won't be a slaughter. I think we can play with UCLA.

BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG



Do you envy the bowler who throws "that big, beautiful curve"? Don't. If you throw a straight ball, you probably are better off. Big curves are as out of date as high shoes. A small curve, covering perhaps 6 to 10 boards, is the ideal for both pros and amateurs. It is easier to control, easier to use for picking spares and easier to adjust from one lane to another. But if your ball doesn't curve — "hook" is the more popular description — don't worry about it.

Hockey All-Stars To Play Against Defending Champs

MONTREAL (UPI) — Veteran Jean Beliveau was named to play in his 10th All-Star game yesterday when his Coach, Toe Blake of the Montreal Canadiens, named an additional 10 players for the 21st annual classic against the Maple Leafs in Toronto next Tuesday.

Blake, who will coach the 21-man squad for the game against the Stanley Cup champion Maple Leafs, also selected defensemen Jacques Laperriere and J. C. Tremblay of the Canadiens.

Johnny Bucyk of Boston, a wing, was another late addition named and all the expansion clubs were assured of representation with the choosing of center Ed Joyal and goalie Terry Sawchuk of Los Angeles, Wings Ken Schinkel of Pittsburgh, Leon Rochefort of Philadelphia and Dave Balone of Minnesota and defenseman Bobby Baun of Oakland.

St. Louis was represented by goalie Glenn Hall, who previously was selected to the squad when the first and second team All-Stars were chosen by a panel of hockey writers and broadcasters last spring. He was a second team choice as a Chicago goalie at that time.

Also selected and automatically qualifying for the 1968 All-Star game were the current NHL scoring leaders Stan Mikita, a center, and Bobby Hull, a wing, from the Black Hawks. They are tied for the league lead at the midway point in the season with 48 points each.

Others named last spring were goalie Ed Giacomin of New York; defensemen Pierre Pilote of Chicago, Harry Howell of New York and Bobby Orr of Boston; center Norm Ullman of Detroit, and Wings Gordie Howe of Detroit, Ken Wharram of Chicago and Don Marshall of New York.

Defenseman Tim Horton of Toronto was the 12th man chosen to the All-Star squad in the balloting, but he naturally will be playing with the Leafs in the NHL classic.

IT WASN'T 'SUPER' IN 1940s

Tremendous Growth Of Pro Football Told By Ol' Timer

By BOB MYERS

"In the old days the guarantee for the entire team for a game away from home was $2,000—and there was no assurance one would get the guarantee."

So recalls Donald B. Smith, president of the Del Mar Turf Club, as he reminisces about the old Pacific Coast professional football league.

The league was formed by Paul Schissler, who had the Hollywood Bears, and Jerry Corcoran, with the Los Angeles Bulldogs. Joining forces were the San Francisco Packers, the Oakland Giants and the San Diego Bombers, which Smith helped organize.

MILITARY PERSONNEL

"Most of our play was during World War II and the Bombers were made up primarily of Army, Navy and Marine personnel. We had some great players but most of them could not play under their real names," Smith said.

"One of the great fullbacks of all time, Bill Osmanski of Holy Cross and the Chicago Bears, was 'Red Scott.' Elroy Hirsch played his first pro game as a Bomber.

"'Big Bill' Lee of Alabama, Green Bay and Philadelphia, was one of our tackles. Other names that come to mind were Steve Bagarus and Ed Beinor of Notre Dame, Sal Mena and Coy Dunn of USC, and Bosh Pritchard of the Eagles. Bosh had a fine voice and used to entertain the fans at halftime.

"One of my favorites was Jack Loomis of Baylor and the New York Giants. He lost both legs at Okinawa and died some two months later. I'll never forget his remark after being wounded. 'Well, I guess the Giants lost a helluva good end.'

"The main problem with the Bombers was that our personnel was determined by troop movements. And since they were very secret, we never knew who would show up for the next ball game. Obviously, our system of plays was very simple."

"I remember a game we played against the Bulldogs at the old Gilmore Stadium in Los Angeles. The weather was miserable and we had 13 more ushers than we had attendance. I think that was one of the days we didn't get our guarantee."

Two More Players For West All-Stars

NEW YORK (UPI) — Don Kojis of the San Diego Rockets and Archie Clark of the Los Angeles Lakers have been added to the West squad for the National Basketball Association All-Star game at Madison Square Garden Jan. 23.

Both players will be making their first All-Star appearance. Kojis is averaging 19.2 points a game and Clark has hit for 20.1 points a game. Both were chosen by West Coach Bill Sharman of the San Francisco Warriors.

Previously named to the 12-man roster in balloting of sports writers and broadcasters were Elgin Baylor and Jerry West of the Lakers, Bob Boozer of Chicago, Bill Bridges, Len Wilkens and Zelmo Beaty of St. Louis, Nate Thurmond, Rudy Larusso and Jim King of San Francisco and Walt Hazzard of Seattle.

$11 Million Profit For Disney Studios

BURBANK (AP) — Walt Disney Productions reported Tuesday that its gross income for the 12 months ended Sept. 30, 1967, increased, but net income was down $1,125 from the 1966 total.

Net profit was $11,267,000 or $2.74 a share, for the fiscal year ended Sept. 30, 1967. Gross revenues were $117,486,000, up $943,000.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

NBy ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I bought Corn Products for growth and price appreciation. It is now listed well below my cost price. What do you think of this stock's potential? —H.H.

A. This is a high-quality stock in a worldwide enterprise which has seen growth slow down sharply this year. The shares moved up in price from 17 in 1957 to 67⅜ in 1964. They were universally regarded as an excellent holding for price appreciation.

Two things then happened. Growth in Corn Products slowed down in 1964 and many similar issues — such as General Foods — fell out of favor.

I have always liked the stock but I advised sale here when it became apparent that earnings would be appreciably lower this year. I feel now, though, that the stock has been pretty thoroughly sold out, that its present yield of 4.5 per cent is exceedingly good for a stock of such high caliber and at present depressed levels. I advise you to hold for recovery which I believe will come ultimately. Investors rarely lose money permanently in a top-grade issue.

Q. Mother is 78, has $31,000 in the bank and receives social security. She has been offered an annuity which would pay her $200 a month — and the balance to her beneficiary, if any is left — for a consideration of $23,753. Do you advise buying the annuity or continuing to get by on interest and possible withdrawal of capital? — W.S.

A. Your mother has been offered a refund annuity. At her age this will pay her substantially more than she can obtain from any other safe investment. In the event of her death before the capital has been exhausted, it will pay to you — presumably as beneficiary — any balance of the original not already paid to your mother. In view of her circumstances, I believe such an annuity is sound and I advise it.

Stocks Close Higher; Weak Blue Chips

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed higher today with gains far outnumbering losses but with weakness among blue chips depressing some averages.

Trading was more active than on Wednesday and there was wide interest in various specially situated issues.

The market was higher from the start but there was nothing much in the way of group leadership. Interest rotated from stock to stock, affording many trading opportunities.

Also active, Budd Co. added about 2 points while Gulf & Western, Consolidated Cigar, Great Western Financial, Chrysler, RCA and Sperry Rand rose a point or more.

IBM ran up 9 points.

Gains of a point or better were scored by Eastern Air Lines, Sears Roebuck, Boeing, Alcoa and American Smelting.

Sewing Machine Sales To Zoom Next Few Years

NEW YORK (UPI)—Sales of sewing machines in the United States is expected to zoom in the next few years because of increasing interest on the part of 41 million girls and women in making their own clothes and home furnishings.

Giuseppe Manidi, president of Necchi, said American women are finding that home sewing is becoming more practical as the cost of fabrics comes within the economic mechanics of nearly every family.

Inexpensive patterns and the relatively simple designs are prevalent in today's fashion world, said Manidi.

Bank Acquires Foreclosed Valley Ranch

VISALIA (UPI) — The Bank of America yesterday purchased the P. J. Divizich Ranch for $5.8 million at a public sale on the steps of the Tulare County Courthouse.

The sale ended a year-long legal battle during which the bank attempted to foreclose on the southern Tulare County property. The bank was the sole bidder.

The sale was scheduled following U.S. Court of Appeals decision upholding District Court Judge M. D. Crocker, who ruled that Divizich must post a $500,000 bond to appeal a bankruptcy court ruling allowing the bank to foreclose.

The bank said it had sustained heavy losses on the ranch as the result of a series of appeals by Divizich. It said it plans to maintain the ranch operation and sell it as soon as possible.

Engineers Honor Bay Transit Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The San Francisco Bay Area Transit System was hailed by the National Society of Professional Engineers yesterday as the outstanding engineering project in the United States in 1967.

Another Bay Area project, the 6.76 - mile San Mateo Creek Bridge across the San Francisco Bay, was selected as the fifth ranked among the top 10 engineering feats of the year.

The Bay Area transit system topped the Apollo IV spacecraft and its power supply, the Saturn V rocket, which took second place honors.

The engineers praised the transit system as a "planned attempt to deal constructively with the need for public transportation in congested areas and to overcome the structural and economic difficulties involved."

Other selections among the top 10 were: (3) John Hancock Center in Chicago, (4) An underseas cable plow developed by Bell Laboratories, (6) Lockheed Aircraft's hangar in Marietta, Ga., (7) the Dallas - Ft. Worth regional airport, (8) Project Gas Buggy, an atomic explosion in New Mexico to free natural gas, (9) the Toledo Bend Dam and Reservoir on the Sabine River between Louisiana and Texas, and (10) a computer TWX-data phone combination in Miami for use on a time sharing basis by small engineering firms.

BART Board Revolt May Be Brewing

By WILEY MALONEY

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The Bay Area Rapid Transit District, harried by financial worries for completion of its proposed 75-mile system, today faced a possible change in its top echelon command.

Falk, who already has served eight terms, has been a staunch advocate of maintaining the status quo of BART which was backed by a near $1 billion bond issue in 1962. But BART, itself, admits that today it is nearly $166 million behind its budget to complete the system.

The BART board consists of 12 members, appointed by county supervisors and mayors' committees, of the three BART counties.

During the past year, five new directors have been named to the board. One, Sherwood Swan from Alameda County, resigned to be replaced by H.R. Lange.

The other new directors are Richard A. Bancroft, San Francisco attorney; Garland D. Graves, San Francisco businessman, Mayor Wallace Johnson of Berkeley, a former critic of BART's engineering consultants but an advocate of the system, and Mayor Stanley T. Gradyk of Richmond, another former BART gadfly.

Opposing the aging president on the board is Director James P. Doherty, El Cerrito, a lumberman. His community recently voted to sever its relationship with BART since it will have no terminal.

The consesus is that Doherty probably has five and possibly six votes on the 12-man board. A deadlock could occur. Arnold C. Anderson, Castro Valley real estate appraiser and a member of the BART board since 1957, then would become a compromise candidate.

Anderson had the backing of Falk who said recently: "I'd vote for myself to make sure that the president is a man who represents the whole district, not just part of it. But I'd vote for Arnold Anderson in a minute."

South Korea Planning To Defoliate Area

SEOUL (AP) — South Korea plans to defoliate a large part of its half of the demilitarized zone between North and South Korea so sentries will have a better chance of spotting North Korean infiltrators, military sources said today.

The sources said the Korean Defense Ministry asked the United Nations Command for 45,000 gallons of defoliation chemicals similar to those used by U.S. forces in Vietnam.

Poll Puts Ike First In World Popularity

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is named in a Gallup Poll as the man Americans admired most in the world in 1967.

Johnson dropped to number two and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., who placed third in 1966, dropped to fourth behind the Rev. Billy Graham.

Dr. George Gallup of the American Institute of Public Opinion in Princeton, N.J., said poll takers asked 1,526 U.S. adults:

"What man that you have heard or read about living today in any part of the world, do you admire most?"

The top ten names, in order of preference, were Eisenhower; Johnson, the Rev. Mr. Graham; Kennedy; Pope Paul VI; Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., former vice president Richard M. Nixon; former Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama; Gov. Ronald Reagan of California and former President Harry S. Truman.

The Malacca Straits between Malaya and Sumatra are 485 miles long, believed to be the longest straits in the world.

Bridge District Public Relations Panel To Meet

The public relations committee of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District will meet at 10 a.m., tomorrow in the administration building at the toll booth plaza. The full board of directors will meet after the committee at 10:30 p.m.

Two of the district's committees have scheduled meetings Tuesday, the building and operating committee at 10:30 a.m., and the insurance committee at 2 p.m.

Following the district's policy, no agenda were available before the meetings, district secretary Helen Jack said yesterday.

Director Thomas D. Hardcastle of Marin, however, told the Independent-Journal he will ask the public relations committee to consider providing detailed advanced agenda for board and committee meetings to persons requesting them.

Forgery Sentencing Is Scheduled Monday

Kenneth Ray Williams, 34, of Oakland, is to appear Monday in Marin Superior Court to be sentenced for forging a $156.92 check against the account of Cement Masons Union Local 580 and cashing it Dec. 2 at the Stop and Go Market on Second Street, Sausalito.

Williams pleaded guilty to the felony chage Tuesday in Marin Municipal Court and a second charge of possessing a fraudulent check with intent to pass it was dismissed at the district attorney's request.

Heart Patient Cheers Wife With Love Note

By U.P INTERNATIONAL

A scribbled "I love you" note was the treasured possession today of the wife of Mike Kasperak, one of the world's two surviving heart transplant patients.

Kasperak's condition, according to reports today from the Stanford University Hospital, said the 54-year-old patient "continues to make progress" though still on the critical list. He scored biggest gains yesterday against kidney, lung and liver complications.

And from Cape Town, South Africa, it was reported that transplant patient Philip Blaiberg developed "unexpected complications" today, but doctors said they were not seriously worried.

The bulletin from Groote Schur Hospital said fluid developed around the heart transplanted into the dentist's body nine days ago by Dr. Christian Barnard. The fluid had to be tapped, the announcement said.

Kasperak, who has sat up several times and dangled his feet over the side of his bed, gave the note to his wife after she met privately for 30 minutes with relatives of the heart donor, the Charles White family.

Physicians have been buoyed with early successes in overcoming the complications in the vital organs while Kasperak's new heart functioned flawlessly.

Doctors were still concerned about an abnormal liver function. However, they said the liver complications "show some improvement."

Earlier, in South Africa, Barnard, who has worried his fellow countrymen by announcing he may move to the United States, said his patient was making "excellent" progress and had asked for some beer.

Barnard, whose two heart transplants have given South Africa prestige in a world often hostile to its racial policies, told newsmen yesterday he has received a tempting offer from the United States.

He did not say where or how much.

Otto Preminger Sues Actress Faye Dunaway

NEW YORK (AP) — Actress Faye Dunaway, who played the gun moll in "Bonnie and Clyde," is being sued for breach of contract and damages by film producer Otto Preminger.

Preminger, president of Sigma Production of Los Angeles, charged in papers filed in State Supreme Court yesterday that Miss Dunaway did not fulfill a contract signed with him Feb. 16, 1966.

Justice Samuel H. Hofstadter ordered the actress to appear in court next Tuesday to explain why she should not be restrained from acting for others until she fulfills the Sigma contract.

The complaint said Miss Dunaway appeared in Sigma's "Hurry Sundown" and was obligated to do five more films in the next five years.

Preminger said the firm told her last September she was to appear for work on a new film Jan. 2 but she did not appear.

Six-Cent Mail To Be Flown; Air Mail Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office Department plans to eliminate air mail as a separate service and send all first class letters by air at the new six-cent rate, Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien announced today.

O'Brien said that for all purposes the Post Office already is sending nearly all first class mail by air.

"Very, very little of this is being handled by the railroad. We have what closely approximates a total airlift service now," he told a news conference.

Within the last year the Post Office has connected more than 500 cities in a nationwide airlift network.

"As a result, 75 per cent of all first class mail deposited before 5 p.m. is now being delivered the day after mailing, and 90 per cent is being delivered within two days," he said.

O'Brien emphasized, however, that under the present system use of a 10-cent airmail stamp still guarantees air transportation until a new single class priority mail service is formally established.

He said that in 1969 the Post Office will ask Congress to eliminate the air postage rate and to merge airmail and first class into the new single class of priority service.

Three Jailed In Narcotics Charges

Arrested at Edgewater Inn, 1815 Redwood Highway, were John Joseph Caggiano, 23, of San Diego; Harriette Pauline Papio, 32, of San Francisco, and Steven Mark Webb, 19, of San Gabriel.

They were booked into county jail for investigation of marijuana possession, possession of other narcotics, having dangerous drugs without a prescription, and possession of narcotic paraphernalia.

Police Chief Frank L. Nelson of Corte Madera said two of his officers, a state narcotics agent, a federal narcotics agent, and Marin County Drug Abuse Bureau officer went to the motel to arrest Caggiano on a warrant for marijuana possession issued in Santa Barbara.

He said the three were in Caggiano's room.

Chief Nelson said officers were informed that Caggiano allegedly is involved in a Santa Barbara ring of about 50 persons dealing in marijuana sales which sometimes involves as much as 1,000 kilograms at a sale.

Caggiano was being held without bail because of the warrant. No bail had been set on the others by noon today.

Road Crew Taps Big Water Main

Tons of water gushed out of a Marin Municipal Water District main in Kentfield yesterday after a county street maintenance crew accidentally punctured the pipe.

William Grant of the MMWD said the break was insolated and repaired in a short time. "We lost a large amount of water but there was no interruption of service to customers," he said.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Non-Board Submits Budget For Non-Program

As the epitome of utter confusion, we nominate the War on Poverty as seen in the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council and its area boards.

Last night, the council was to consider the budget of an area board in which the council's executive director said was not a designated target area, for a program which he said had not been approved but for which an EOC member had already told the county board of supervisors that would be asked for a $2,500 contribution.

And then it turned out there is no money for the program, anyhow — which the director had learned after making up the agenda.

THE AREA IS Fairfax and San Anselmo. An 11-member committee there calls itself the San Anselmo-Fairfax Target Area Board. A program for a "Big Brother" program under its aegis was prepared for it by a program writer of the Economic Opportunity Council at request of the board (or committee — call it what you will). The program writer is a University of California graduate student who presumably was paid with Economic Opportunity Act funds. But Victor Cary, the executive director of the Marin County EOC, said the program was "pure speculation" by the Fairfax-San Anselmo committee.

Now, to add to the confusion: How did the Fairfax-San Anselmo Target Area Board (or committee, or whatever it is) come into being?

According to the prospectus, it was "established through democratic procedures acceptable to the council."

However, some people who have attended some of the unpublicized meetings of the board claim it was set up simply by a few people getting together at a home in Fairfax and deciding they wanted to start a "Big Brother" program.

The EOC has some guidelines for such committees, according to its Marin County executive director. The committee (or target area board) ideally should be one-third from "the poor," one-third from the business community, and one-third from official agencies, he said.

NEVERTHELESS, it was recognized by the Marin County EOC as "established through democratic procedures acceptable to the council."

It proposed a "Big Brother" program — with others to be added later — to be financed for the initial year by 80 per cent federal funds. After the first two years, however, the financing would have to be all local.

The San Anselmo-Fairfax board has held at least seven meetings. Most of these were completely unpublicized. This may be traceable to a directive by Cary last summer. After a tumultuous meeting at Lagunitas School of the San Geronimo-Nicasio Target Area Board (or committee), Cary said he had instructed EOC personnel "not to talk to the press."

Just about that time, the California Legislature, disturbed by reports of similar confusing activities by EOC elsewhere in the state, added this section to the California Government Code chapter forbidding secret meetings by boards and committees of local agencies:

"For the purposes of this chapter . . . the term 'local agency' shall include all private nonprofit organizations that receive money to be expended for public purposes pursuant to the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964."

Americans had great hopes when the Economic Opportunity Act was passed. The nonsense which seems to be the trademark of its operations has pretty well killed those hopes.

The National Bird Count

Each December, right after Christmas, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the National Audubon Society cooperate in undertaking a United States bird census. The nation bird count has been conducted for 64 years and is an attempt to keep track of the changes in bird population in this country.

This December's bird count in Marin revealed a total of 194 species. There are definite rules for estimating the numbers of birds from the number seen and heard — rules carefully formulated and developed through the years by professional ornithologists.

All the figures collected by dedicated, cold benumbed bird-watchers are sent to Washington, where they are tabulated and made into the annual report which is released in April.

This is an unusual example of sustained cooperation among groups of people inside and outside government, both working in the common interest of saving our bird life.

TEACHER'S REGARD FOR CLASS PAYS OFF

After each student's name was a number, such as 138, 140 and 145.

As a result, the elated teacher tried new methods. The students responded exceptionally well to her creative approach.

Only later did she find out that the figures after each pupil's name stood, not for IQ, but for their locker numbers.

It is often startling what can happen when those in positions of authority, such as parents or teachers, treat those in their charge in a positive way. If one must make a choice, misplaced confidence is preferable to defeatism.

We act in harmony with the Creator as often as we try to find the potential for achievement in others and build realistically on it.

One Reader Misses Morning Paper

Editor, Independent-Journal:

One of the many reasons that I prefer the S.F. morning paper to our local I-J occured in the Saturday issue of the I-J, specifically Mr. Jack Craemer's editorial.

Mr. Craemer seemingly cannot remember Mr. Herb Caen's name nor the paper for whom he works even though he is an internationally famous writer. Nor does he seem to remember an entire Caen column devoted to and in praise of the Oakland Symphony. He also overlooks the fact that the S.F. Warriors are league champs while the Oaks and the Seals play to fewer and fewer onlookers. I don't take issue with the need for the Oakland airport. As far as the parking and easy access, that's fine if you could ever find a plane to take you somewhere.

Children's Bazaar Delightful Pleasure

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In reflecting on the recent holiday season, I would like to make a positive comment regarding our younger set, and commend the 120 children of the Sausalito School District who participated in the children's bazaar in Sausalito.

It was a delightful pleasure to see how creative children are capable of being with a bit of encouragement.

My hat's off to Sausalito Artists and Merchants Association for sponsoring the children's bazaar.

Tiburon Neighbors: Two Responses

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Your article of Jan. 8 entitled "All Good Neighbors on Tiburon Council" insinuated a "togetherness of thought" on matters pertaining to Tiburon because of the proximity of councilmen's residences. If you feel the City of Tiburon does not have free and independent thinkers to represent it, then say it. But don't try to plant a seed of distrust because of an individual's address.

JEAN JACOBS
Tiburon

Editor, Independent-Journal:

For a paper supposedly serving all of Marin County, your editorial "All Good Neighbors on Tiburon Council" performs a great disservice.

Are you aware that (John S.) Hoffmire, (Thomas E.) Drohan, and (Branwell Fanning were elected by popular vote? The fact that these men live in close proximity proves nothing except that their neighborhood attracts those citizens who possess both ability and an interest in their community.

The hig calibre of elected officials in the City of Tiburon is something that should be emulated throughout the county and I think you are amiss in trying to detract from their worth.

MRS. JO McLEOD
Belvedere

(Editor's note: Hoffmire, Drohan and Fanning were indeed elected. But when Gordon W. Strawbridge informed his fellow councilmen privately that he was resigning, instead of asking nominations to fill out the term, they chose at a closed meeting, with no announcement whatever, a neighbor of Hoffmire and Fanning to this normally elective position. We do not question the civic-mindedness of the man chosen. But the method of choice was undemocratic, as are the possibilities of government by cronies.)

South May Trap GOP

(Reprinted from the New York Times)

As the presidential campaign approaches, most political observers are agreed that Richard M. Nixon, risen like a phoenix from the ashes of past defeats, is the most likely Republican nominee. A striking feature of the Nixon strategy is its dependence upon the South.

Many Republicans may be surprised to learn that of the 1,333 delegates to next year's convention, the largest regional bloc—356—will come from the South. This partly reflects the rise in population in Florida and Texas. It also reflects the fact that five Southern states supported Barry Goldwater in 1964 and accordingly receive bonus delegates.

Mr. Nixon, who can expect little support on the early ballots from big industrial states such as New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan and California, is the leading contender only because he has established himself as heir to the Goldwater strength in the South.

There is nothing unusual or reprehensible about this political circumstance. Back in the days when the South was solidly Democratic, the Republican Southern delegations were always the happy hunting ground of the more conservative G.O.P. faction. Their support made possible the renomination of President Taft over Theodore Roosevelt in 1912 and would have brought about Robert A. Taft's nomination 40 years later if General Eisenhower's managers had not successfully pulled out the rug from under them. . .

Yet it remains curious that the Republican party may choose a candidate whose strongest appeal is in the region where the party is weakest.

The South, in short, is likely once again to prove a phantom hope for the Republicans. In a year of beckoning opportunity, one would think that the G.O.P. might do better to find a candidate whose greatest appeal is in the major industrial states, where the votes are. With George Wallace aboard in the land, Dixie is no place for an elephant to take his stand in 1968.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

MR. MacGREGOR went to Wales on business, and called his wife in New York to congratulate her on her birthday. "Just where are you calling from?" she asked. "To be exact," he answered impatiently, "from Plas Penrhyn, Penrhyn Deudrath, Merioneth. I'd spell it for you dear, but I'm paying personally for this call."

A resourceful radio announcer arranged to do a local broadcast from the city dog pound, and as listeners heard a background chorus of mournful barking by the stray dogs, they were told that if they contributed just one dollar to the pound, they not only would save one animal's life but would be presented with the dog as well.

A week later the happy

director of the dog pound called up the radio announcer to tell him, "What a hit that broadcast of yours made! The dollar bills have been pouring in so fast, I've had to hire three more dog catchers to will the orders!"

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Congress To Seek Curb On High Court

By PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — A new effort to curb what has been called the Supreme Court's law-changing trend appears to be shaping up in the next Congress.

The power clash, which has been slowly building for several years, could come during the congressional session which convenes next Monday.

In recent weeks congressional leaders of both parties have begun discussion privately the need for curbing the Supreme Court, one of the most forceful in American history.

LEADERS IN THESE backstage anti-court discussions are Senate Minority Leader Everett Dirksen, R-Ill., and House Speaker John McCormack, D-Mass. Both are disturbed that the court, in effect, is amending the Constitution by judicial edict.

In private talks with other GOP senators, Dirksen has accused the Supreme Court of trying to remake the U.S. in an image existing in the minds of the court's "liberal majority."

AS THE FIRST order of business, Dirksen will seek to have the Senate pass legislation that would override the Supreme Court's ruling that Communists cannot be barred from working in defense plants.

After the Supreme Court announced that decision during the closing days of the first session of the 90th Congress, Dirksen appeared before the GOP Senate Policy Committee to urge counter congressional action, stating:

"This decision should be the last straw. Unless congressional action is taken soon to curb the court, there won't be any security laws left on the statute books."

A majority of the GOP policy committee told Dirksen they agreed.

IN THE HOUSE, Speaker McCormack has been exploring, with a bi-partisan group on the House Judiciary Committee, ways for Congress to curb the Supreme Court.

One of the most interesting proposals discussed so far provides that Congress, through its appropriate committees, would review the appointments of Supreme Court members every 10 years.

Under this plan, no change would be sought in the life term of appointments to the Supreme Court. The review provision would be added as a legislative check. Impeachment proceedings would remain the same.

Research by these lawmakers shows that members of the constitutional convention, in drafting the Constitution, seriously considered adding the 10-year review provision.

McCormack pointed out to the lawmakers that police and judges are complaining the Supreme Court is creating a situation in which criminals are free to prey on society at will. He cited court decisions broadening "rights" of criminals in arrest, interrogation, and trial procedures.

IN ADDITION, Speaker McCormack sees a major confrontation shaping up with the Supreme Court over the case of former Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, who is seeking to regain the Harlem seat from which the House ousted him.

Although the Supreme Court has never ruled on a case involving a dispute over the exclusion of persons elected to either House of Congress, McCormack believes the present court will accept the Powell case on appeal later this year. The case is now pending before the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

If the Supreme Court should rule in Powell's favor, as McCormack expects, the speaker believes the stage will be set for one of the great constitutional crises in this nation's history.

In its present mood, McCormack contends, the House would flatly refuse to seat Powell. Then, if the court should try to enforce its decision, anything, he says, could happen.

Common Hatred Fails To Hold Arabs Together

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

A common hatred for Israel long has been known as the only really unifying factor among Arab states.

But even that, coupled with a desire to avenge themselves after their humiliating defeat by the Israelis in last June's six-day war, has not proved enough.

Cancellation of the scheduled summit meeting at Rabat on Jan. 17 signaled that the fragile unity achieved in a summit at Khartoum last fall already had fallen apart.

AT THE CORE of the dispute is the suspicion between the conservative, kingly states, as led by King Faisal of Saudi Arabia, and the revolutionary states such as those led by President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic.

I

At Khartoum, in order to pursue a common cause against Israel, Nasser agreed to recall his 40,000-man force in Yemen supporting the republican regime in return for Faisal's agreement to cut off his supplies of gold and guns to the royalists.

THE KHARTOUM agreement would have reactivated an earlier agreement reached by Faisal and Nasser in 1965.

If Faisal should cancel the Khartoum peace plan, other agreements also could go by the wayside. The most important of these would be Saudi Arabia's agreement to contribute $120 million a year to Egypt and Jordan to help them offset economic losses resulting from the Mideast war.

THE REDWOODS

Small Lumber Firms Expect Big Trouble

By DWAIN HANSON
(Third in a Series)

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Small redwood companies, many of them already fighting for survival, would be dealt a new blow by the creation of a proposed 64,000 - acre Redwood National Park.

"It would be just another nail in the coffin of some operators," said George Craig, secretary-manager of Western Lumber Manufacturers, Inc. "The small operator is being squeezed out by a shortage of logs."

OTHER FACTORS

But Simonson said that while pending park legislation might be a contributing factor in putting some small operators out of business, it would not be the only cause.

A spokesman for a larger company added: "Unfortunately, neither the preservationists, many members of Congress nor the administration is concerned with the little guy's problems."

The concern is for the small operator that owns little or no timber land. He buys from larger companies or bids on a competitive basis with large and small firms for timber sold by the Forest Service.

A log source vital to some small firms would be dried up by a Senate-approved park bill that goes before the House Interior Committee early this year. The source is 14,567 acres —mostly redwoods—managed by the Forest Service for public sale of logs. Ten companies have been buying more than one million board feet a year.

Under terms of the park bill, the land would be given to four larger companies in exchange for about 27,000 acres they would lose to a proposed 64,000-acre park.

"There is no alternate supply of redwood available," said Fred Landenberger, secretary-manager of the Eureka - based North Coast Timber Association.

The Senate recognized the problem and tried to do something about it. Its bill proposes that the Forest Service increase by 37 million board feet the amount of timber that can be cut annually in the Six Rivers National Forest of Northern California.

The plan, though welcomed by the redwood industry, presents two problems:

The Forest Service says it has no money to build roads that would be needed to provide access to 14 million board feet of the proposed 37 million increase. And Forest Service officials say it may take 10 years to build the roads, even if they are given the $11 million the project would require.

PROS, CONS

Despite the problems, Craig said the proposed cut increase "obviously would soften the blow" to many small redwood operators. He and other industry leaders said certain small operators could convert to white wood products without great difficulty.

Further, industry spokesmen noted, the small company that converts to douglas fir lumber from redwood will have to adjust to new markets.

Typical is the comment of Craig: "This should be done without regard to the park issue. The timber is there. What we have been seeking from the Forest Service has come about as an attempt to soften objections to the administration's goal—a park."

Feud Erupts Over Nuns' School Role

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A dispute between the Immaculate Heart of Mary order of nuns and James Francis Cardinal McIntyre may result in a majority of the nuns not returning to their teaching jobs next fall.

Sister Anita Caspary, head of the order, this week sent a letter to parents of schools taught by the order which said the order is "being asked to stop teaching your children in the parochial schools of the archdiocese."

Cardinal McIntyre issued a statement yesterday denying the sisters had been dismissed and rather "the community has simply been asked to determine promptly how many of the sisters will wish to retain their teaching capacity in our schools as religious."

Behind the dispute, church sources say, are the experimental changes in the order's mode of religious life and proposals for updating education. The cardinal reportedly has remained adamant on a demand the order cease the experimentation if it were to continue in the schools.

Retired Officers To Install Today

Retired Army Capt. Alfred T. Little will be installed as president of the Marin County Retired Officers Association at a dinner meeting at 7 p.m. today, at the officers club at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Others to be installed are Fred C. Pebil, first vice president; Glen W. Pohl, second vice president; Patrick H. Devine, third vice president; Russell P. Knoble, chaplain; John D. Gore, sergeant-at-arms; Arthur A. Watson, secretary-treasurer, and Harold H. Warriner, assistant to the secretary treasurer.

Helmut K. Schmidt, president in 1966, will install the officers.

Plastic Pipe Used

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Copper shortages and wildly fluctuating copper prices have forced the San Francisco Water Department to use ultra-high molecular weight, high density plastic pipe. Worn-out and damaged lead and galvanized lines from water mains to curbside meters have been replaced by the new pipe.

McCloskey Ends Viet Tour Still A Dove

SAN MATEO (UPI) — The Korean War hero who defeated Shirley Temple Black for the 11th District Congressional seat has returned home from a two-week visit to Vietnam still a dove.

"My mind is still unchanged," Paul N. (Pete) McCloskey said yesterday. "We are, I believe, fighting the wrong war in the wrong place at the wrong time."

McCloskey said he found the military effort by American forces in Vietnam to be "superb" and he praised American pacification teams for "magnificent" dedication.

He added, however, that he found corruption at all levels of the South Vietnamese government "from the policeman who gets $20 a month to the highest levels in Saigon."

He said American military men feel that the war will last another five years.

He said he was "tremendously impressed with the talent of the American fighting men and civilians working and fighting in the war-torn nation, but he added:

"They see progress, but they measure progress under American standards. Most of they are here such a short time they neither learn the language nor learn to judge progress by Vietnamese standards."

McCloskey was especially critical of the performance of the South Vietnamese government which he described as a "military government" and a "city government."

1,500 Guests Due For Big Filipino Bash

MANILA (UPI)—With champagne spraying from a lighted fountain and music by Meyer Davis, Filipino tycoon Eugenio Lopez will celebrate 40 years of marriage Saturday by throwing the Philippines' party of the century.

Lopez, head of the mammoth Manila Electric Co., expected 1,500 guests from around the world to gather at an outdoor fountain designed to shoot champagne 25 feet into the air.

Music will be provided by the imported U.S. Society orchestra of Meyer Davis, which played at the inauguration ball of the late President John F. Kennedy. Metropolitan Opera soprano Lucine Amara and the Four Freshmen also will perform.

The maitre d' of the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco, Peter Goldman, has been hired to supervise the army of waiters, 10 buffet tables and eight bars arranged for the dusk-to-dawn soiree.

New President For Sewer Board

Directors of the Richardson Bay Sanitary District have elected Alfred O. Pratesi to succeed Stanley G. Bennett as president.

Johnson Wins Hearst Backing

LAS VEGAS (UPI) — President Johnson today could count on the support of one of the nation's most prominent newspaper owners, William Randolph Hearst Jr., in his bid for reelection next year.

The head of the Hearst newspaper group told a news conference yesterday that "there isn't anybody walking around that wants peace any more than the President."

Hearst predicted that the strongest candidate the Republican Party could run against the President would be Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York.
